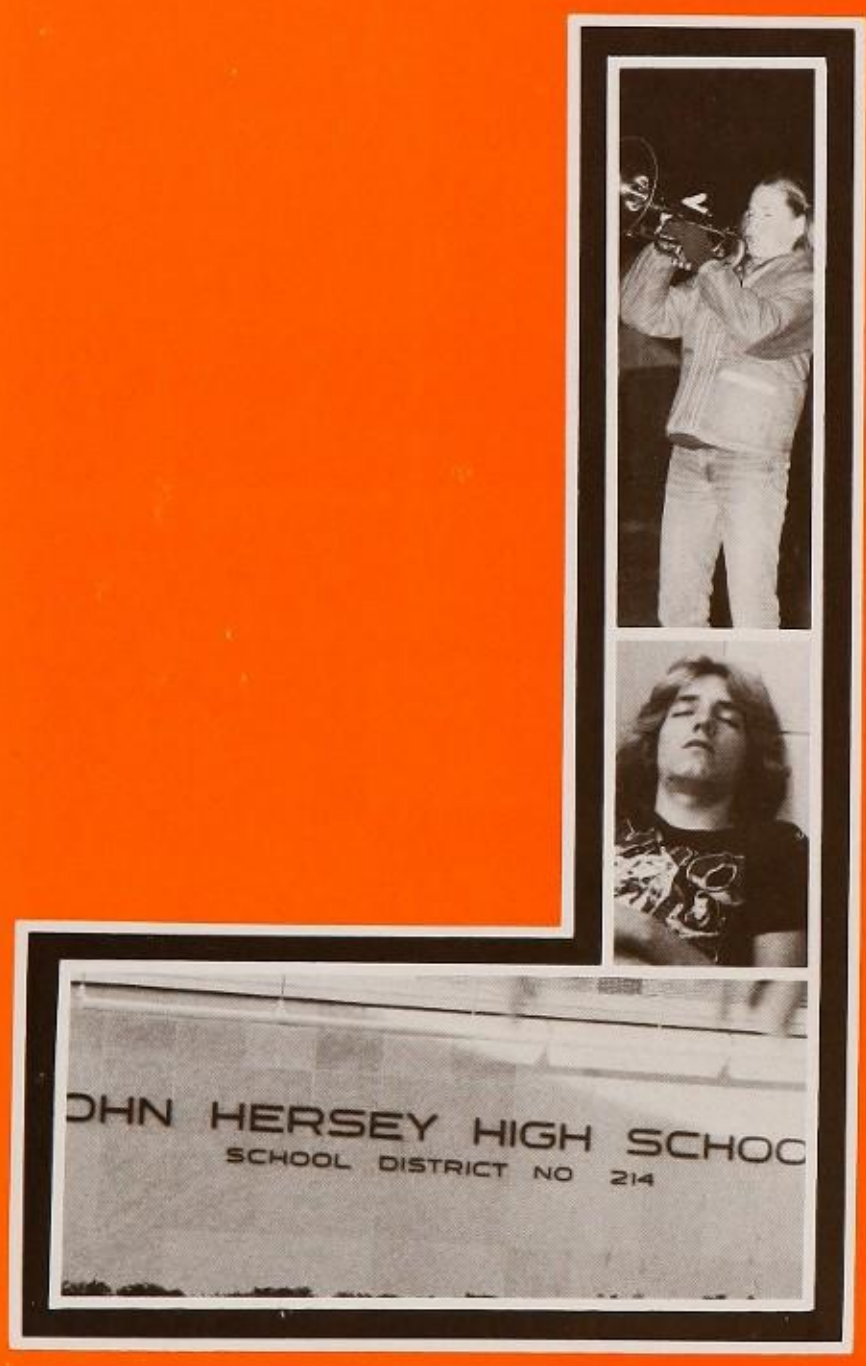
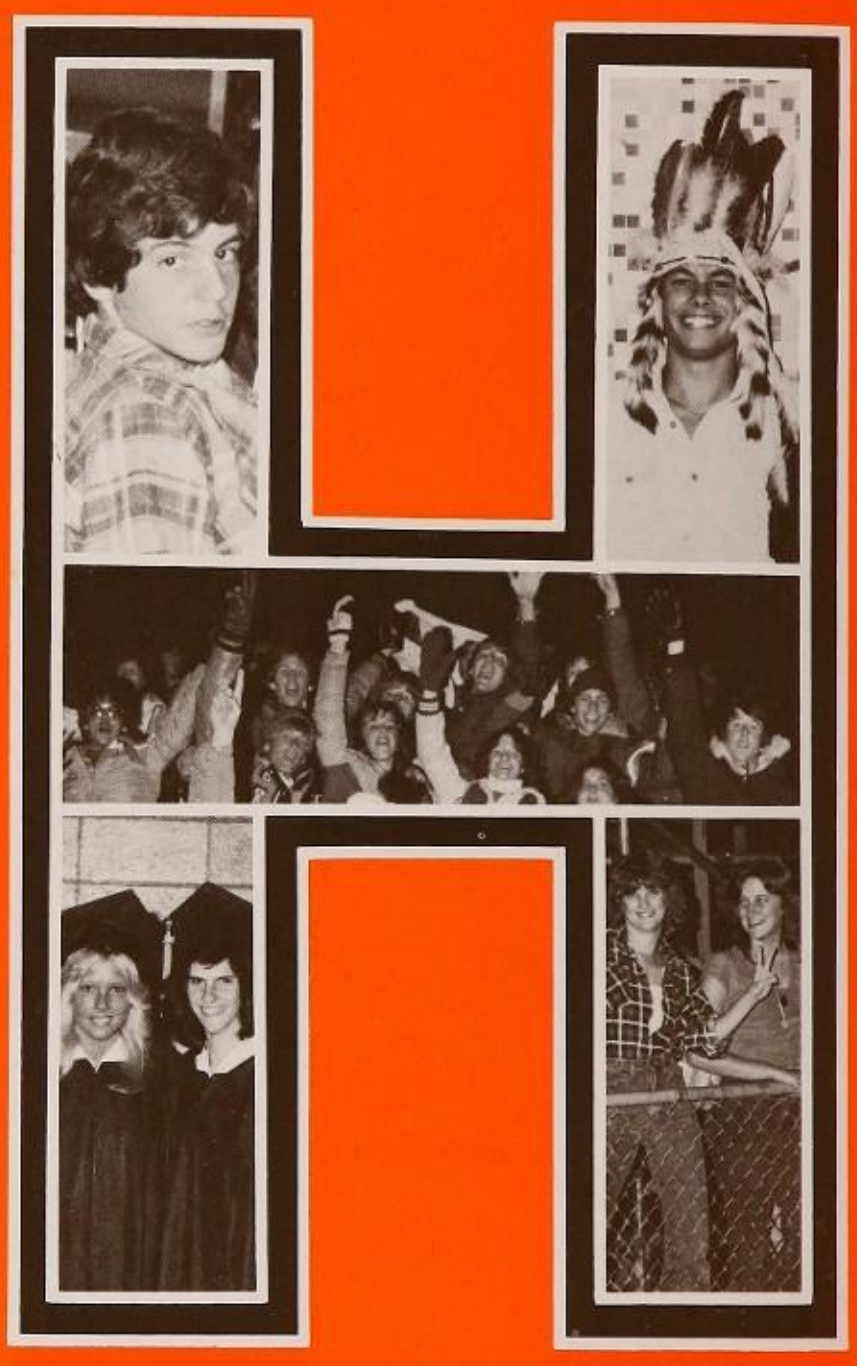
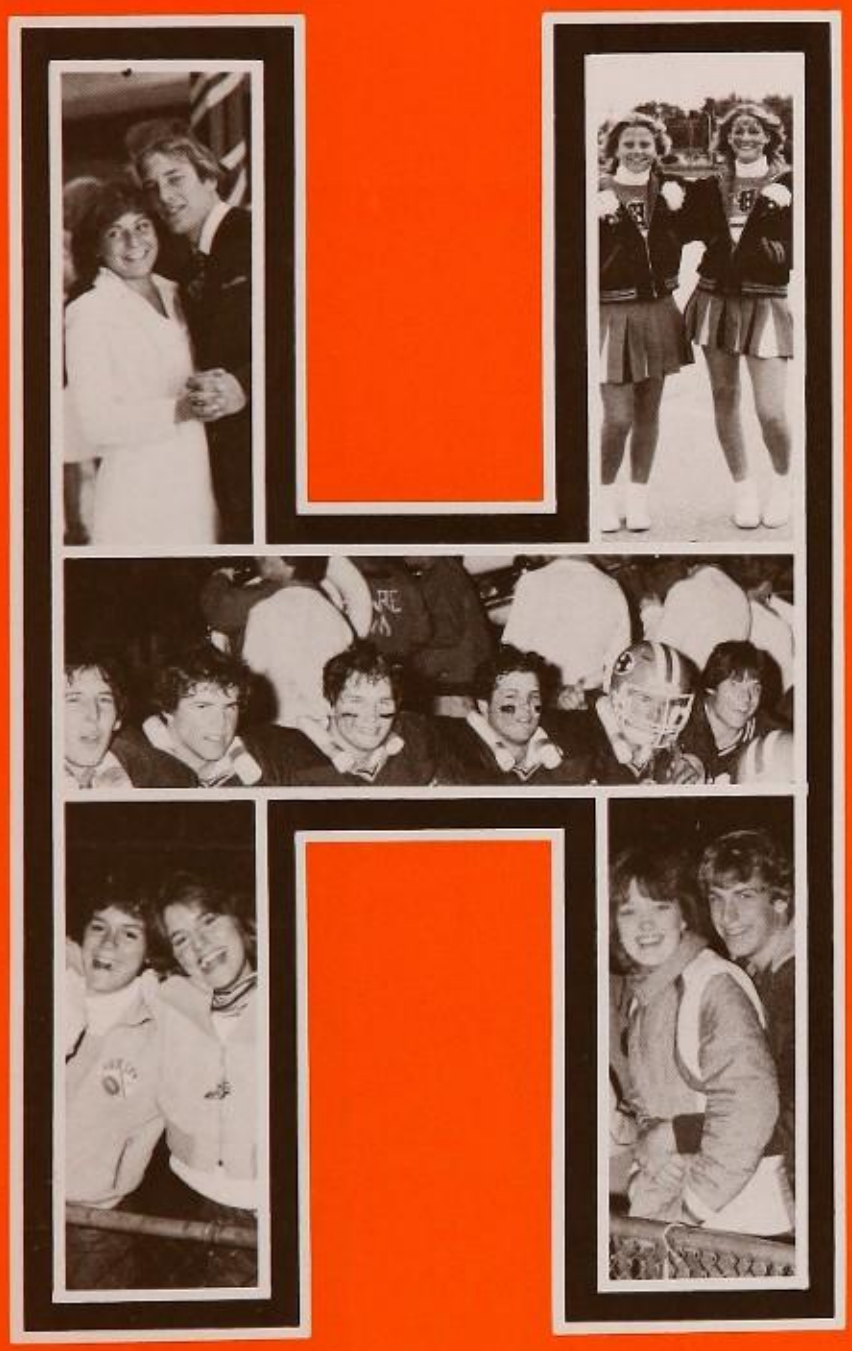
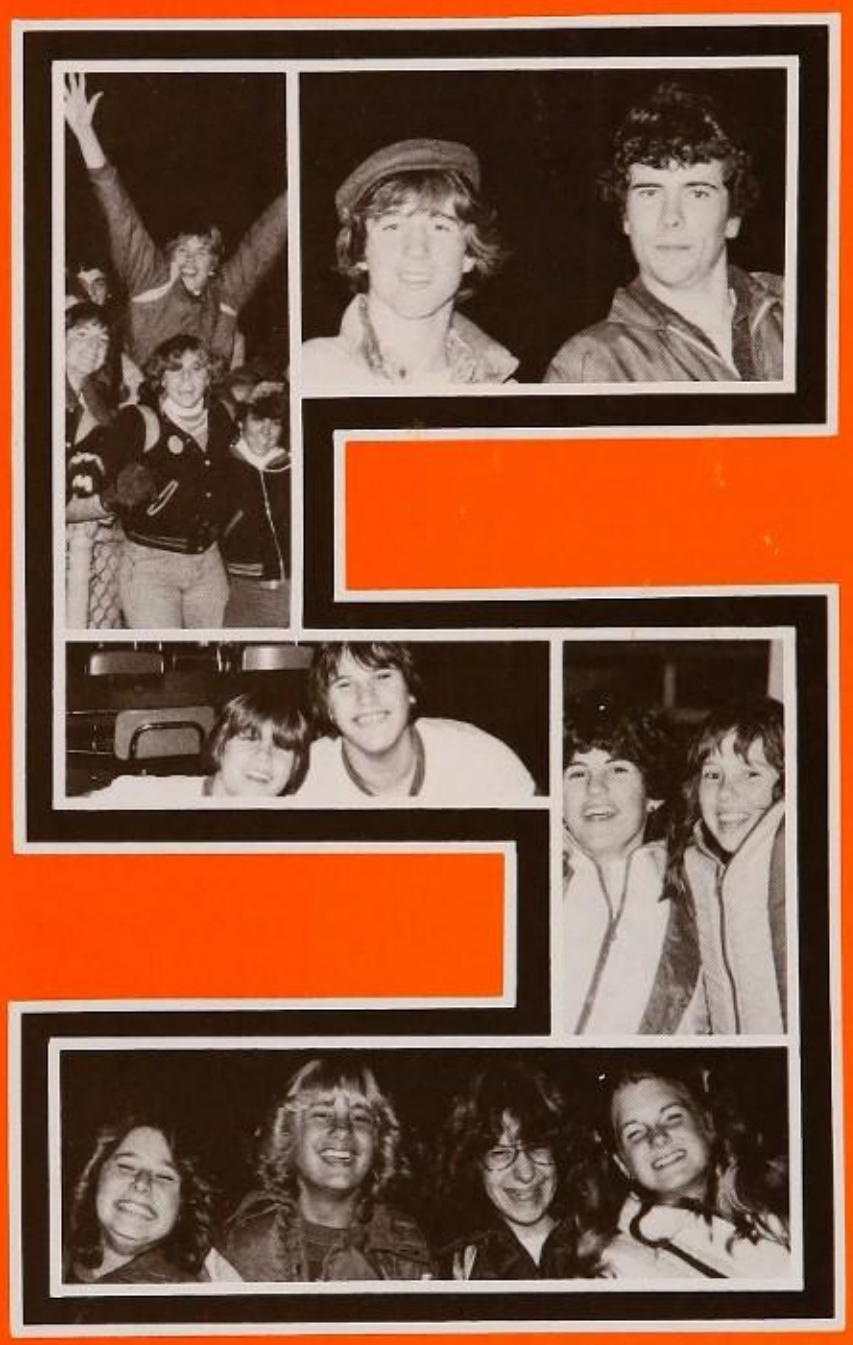
Hersey High School
a place to go,
to learn the things
we're taught to know.



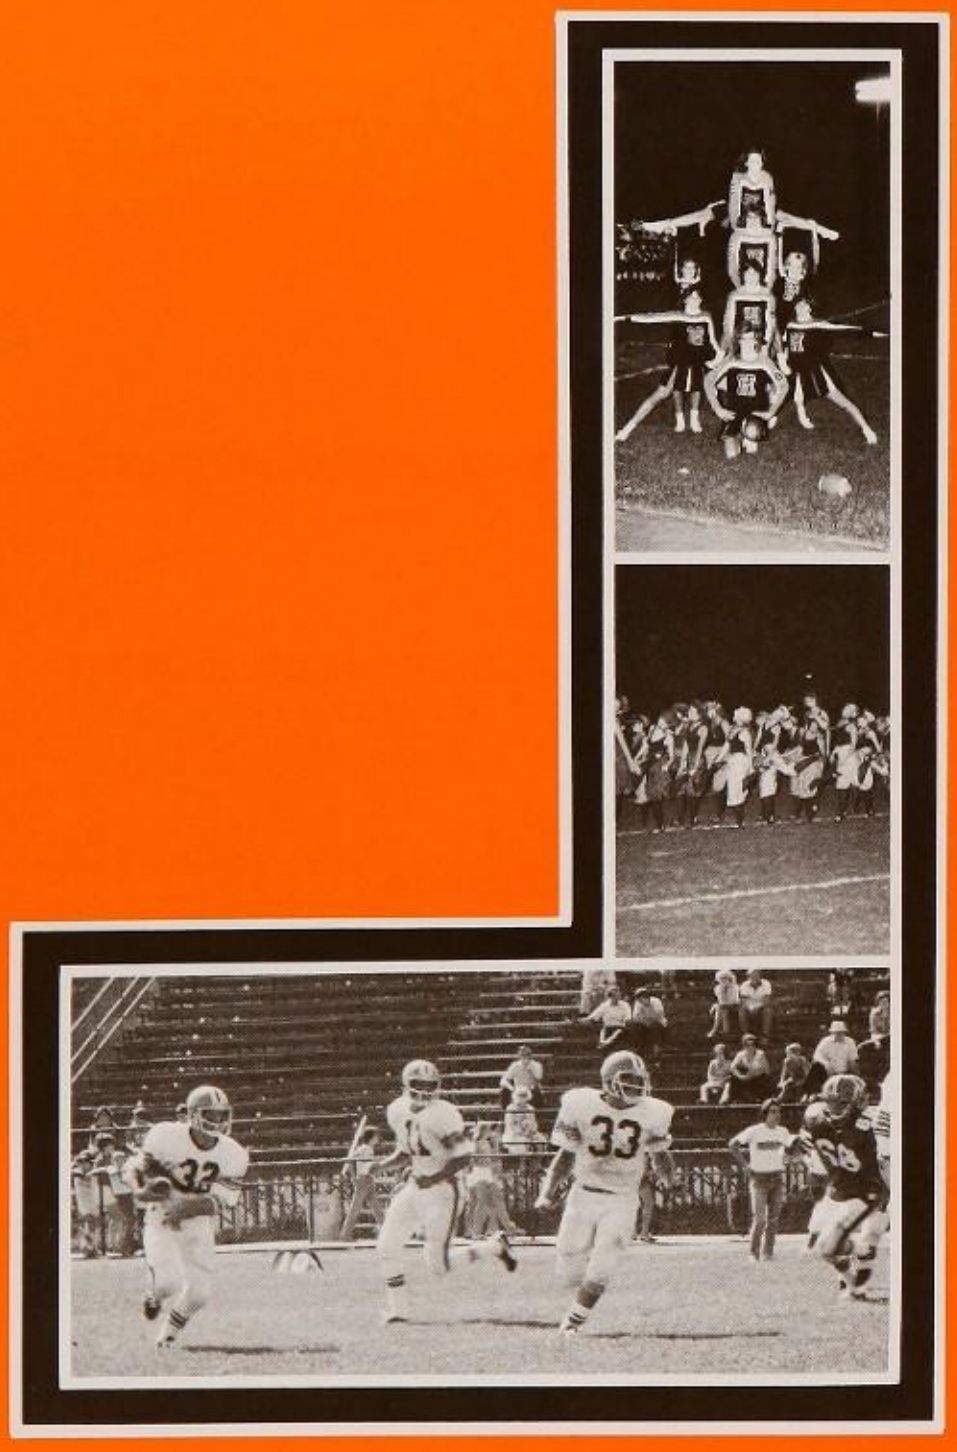


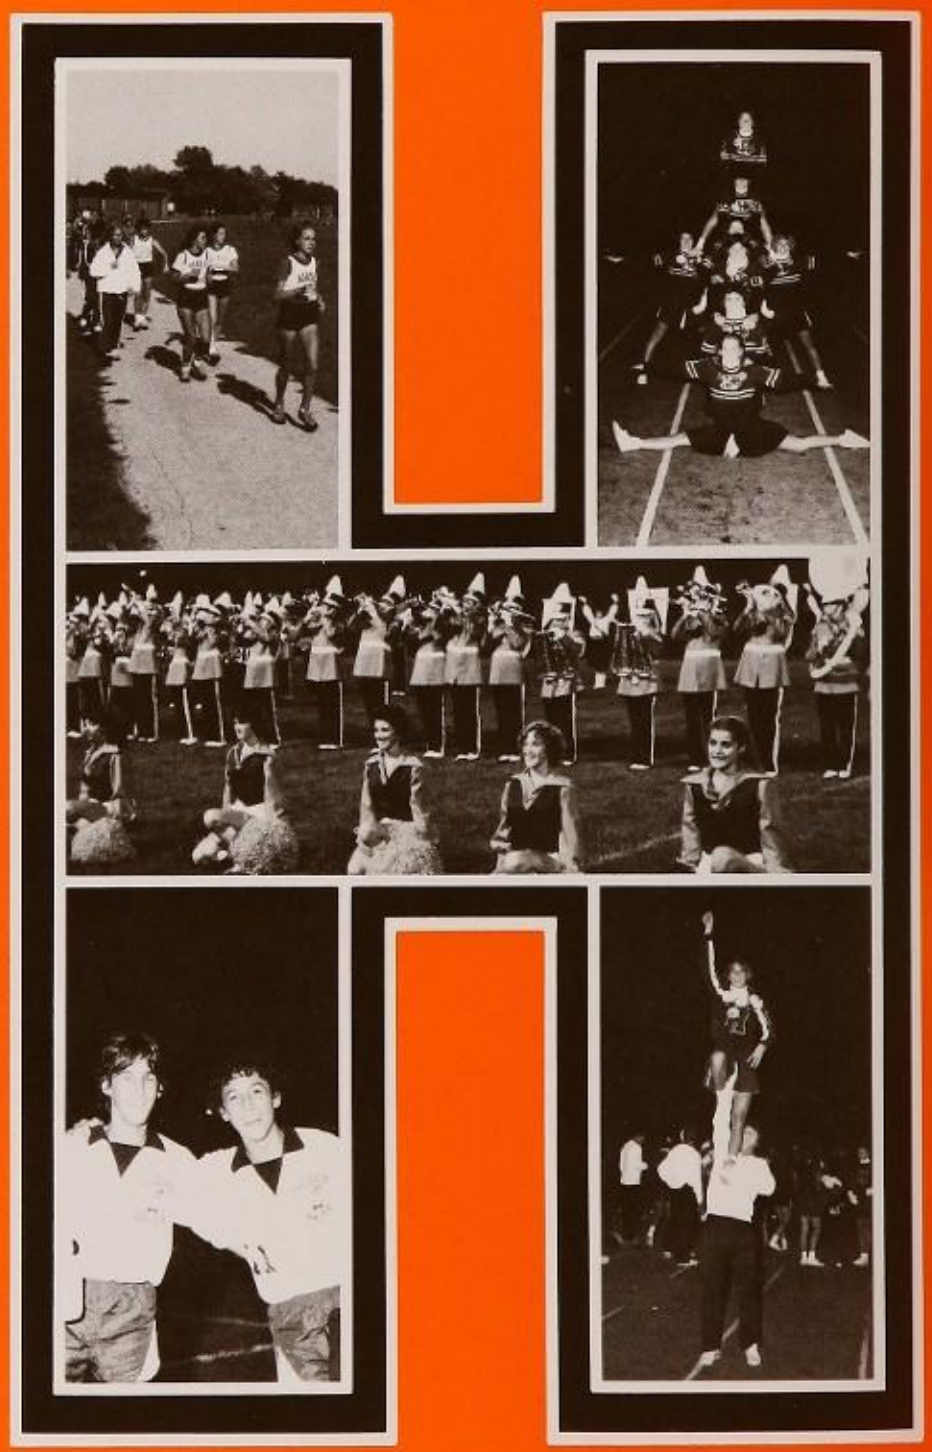
We meet new friends
who see us through,
who help us out
when we're down and blue



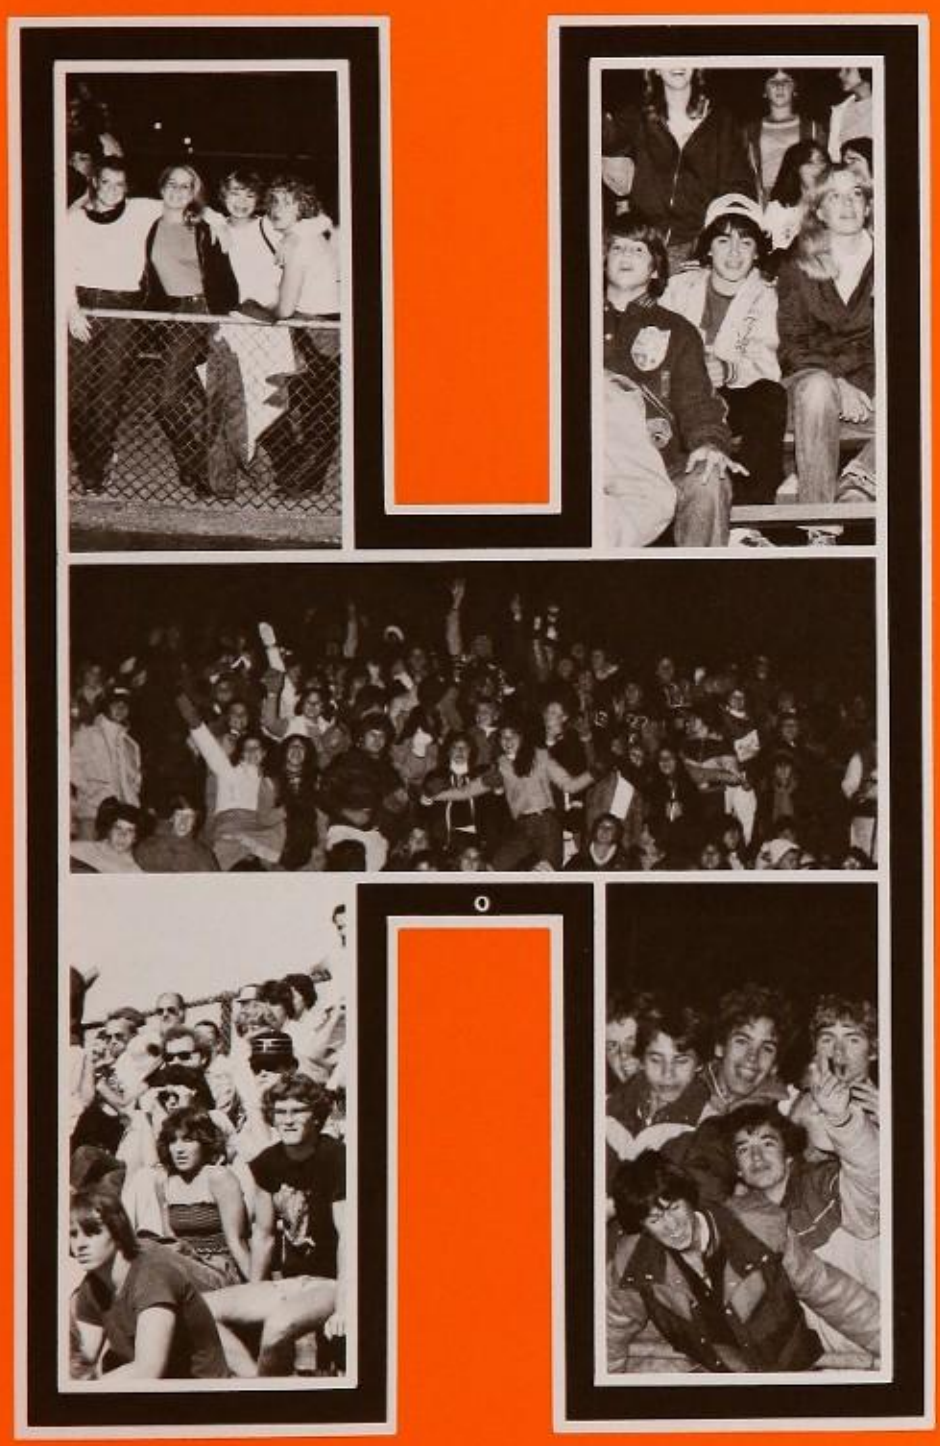


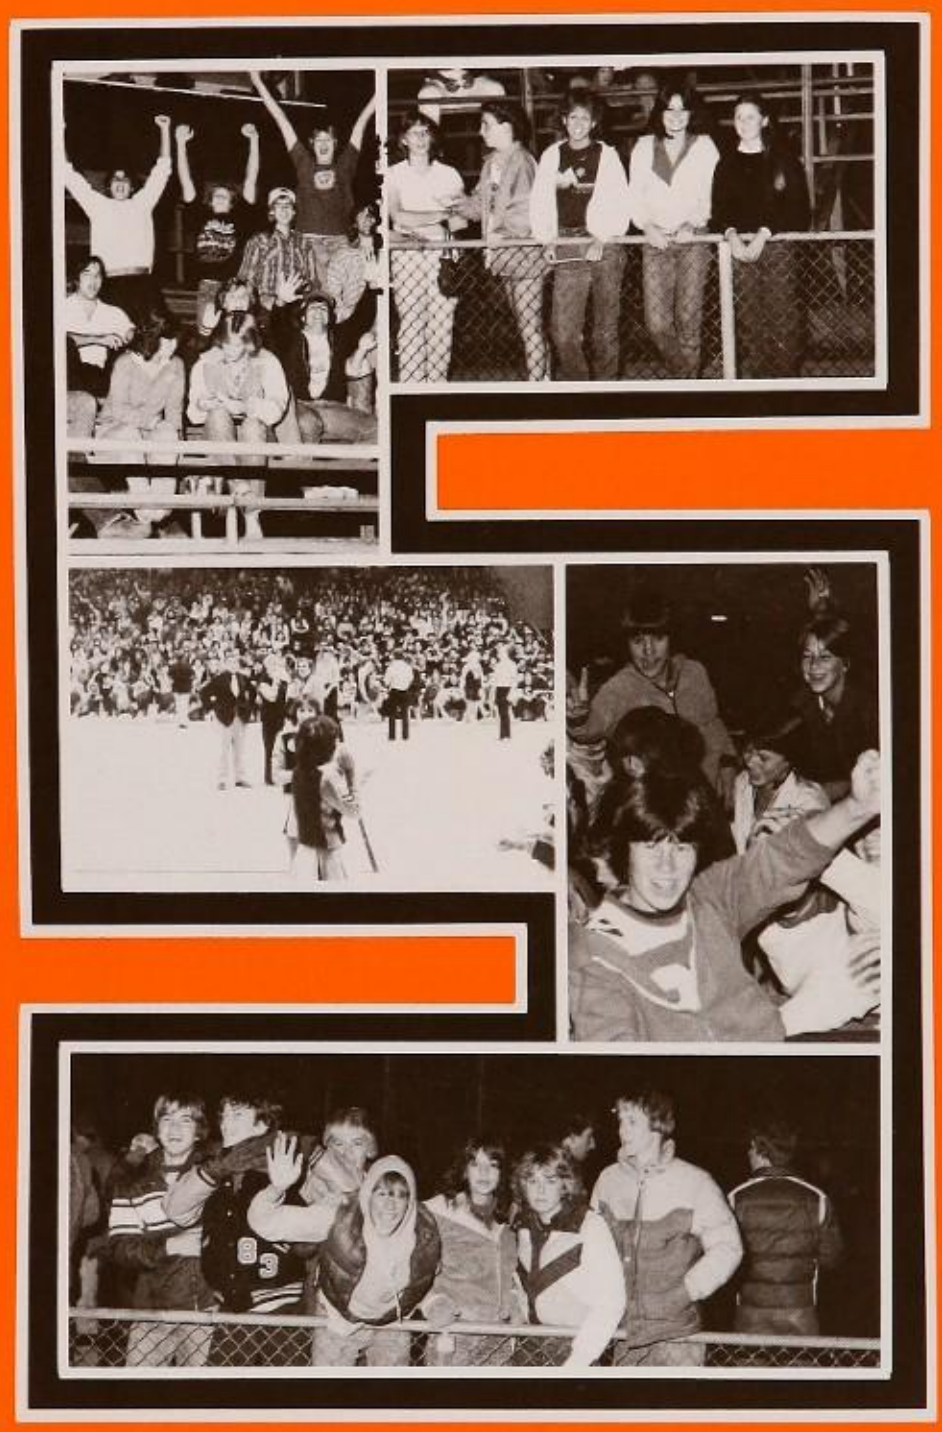
We get involved in things we can: Student Council, sports, and band.



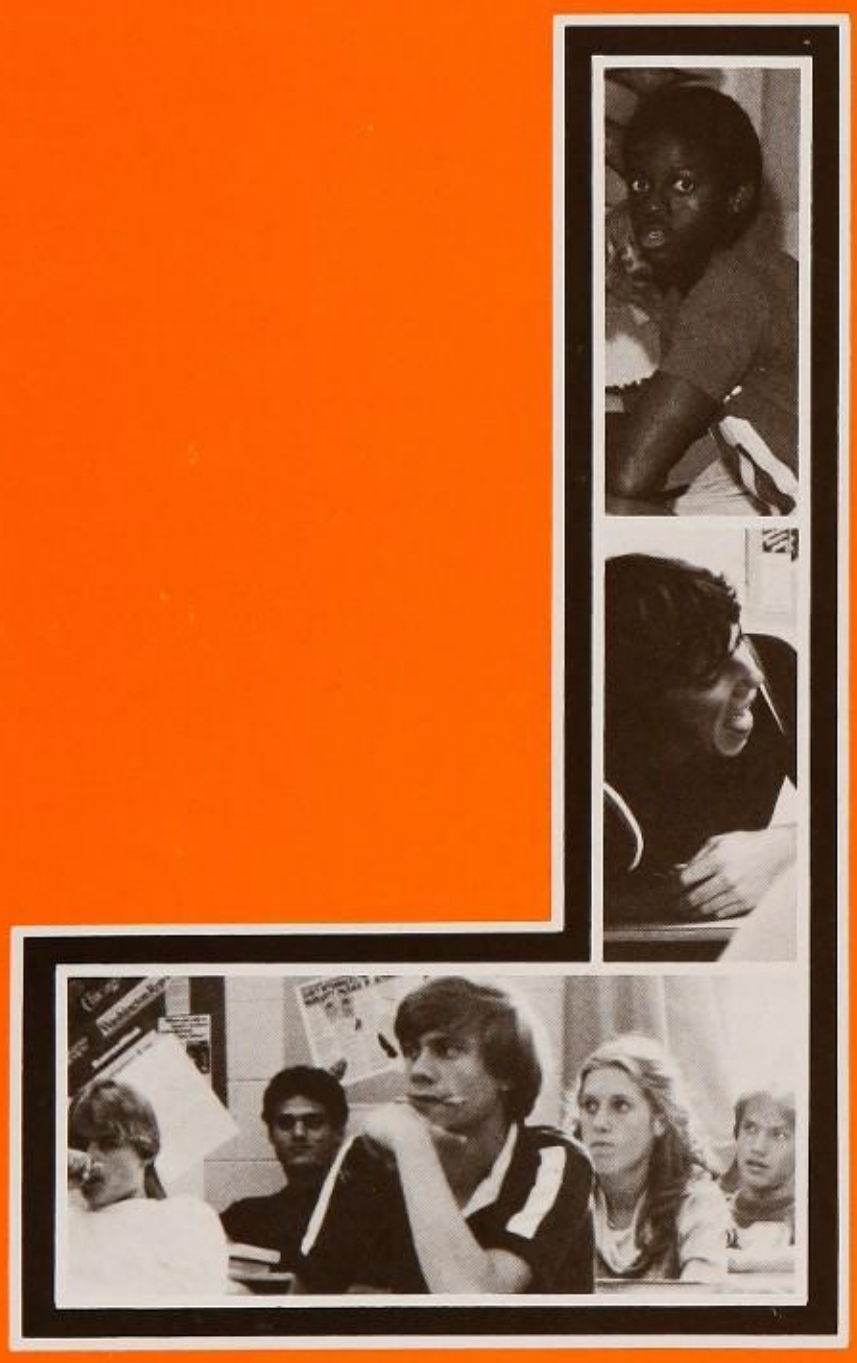


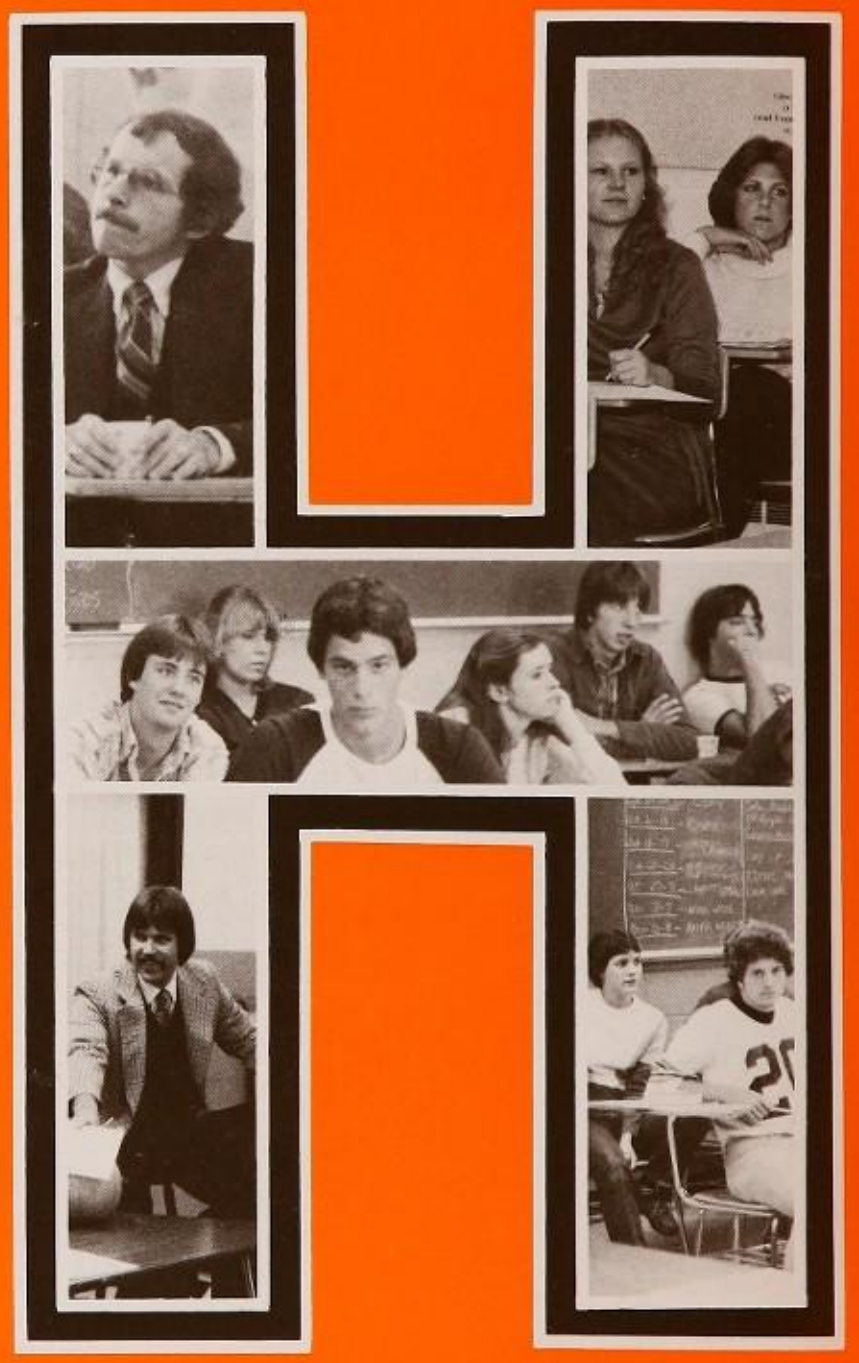
Students come and bring a crowd, to cheer their team and shout aloud.





Going to classes we know are tough, but in the end they all pay off.





The things we've done,
the things we've said,
will help us through the years ahead.

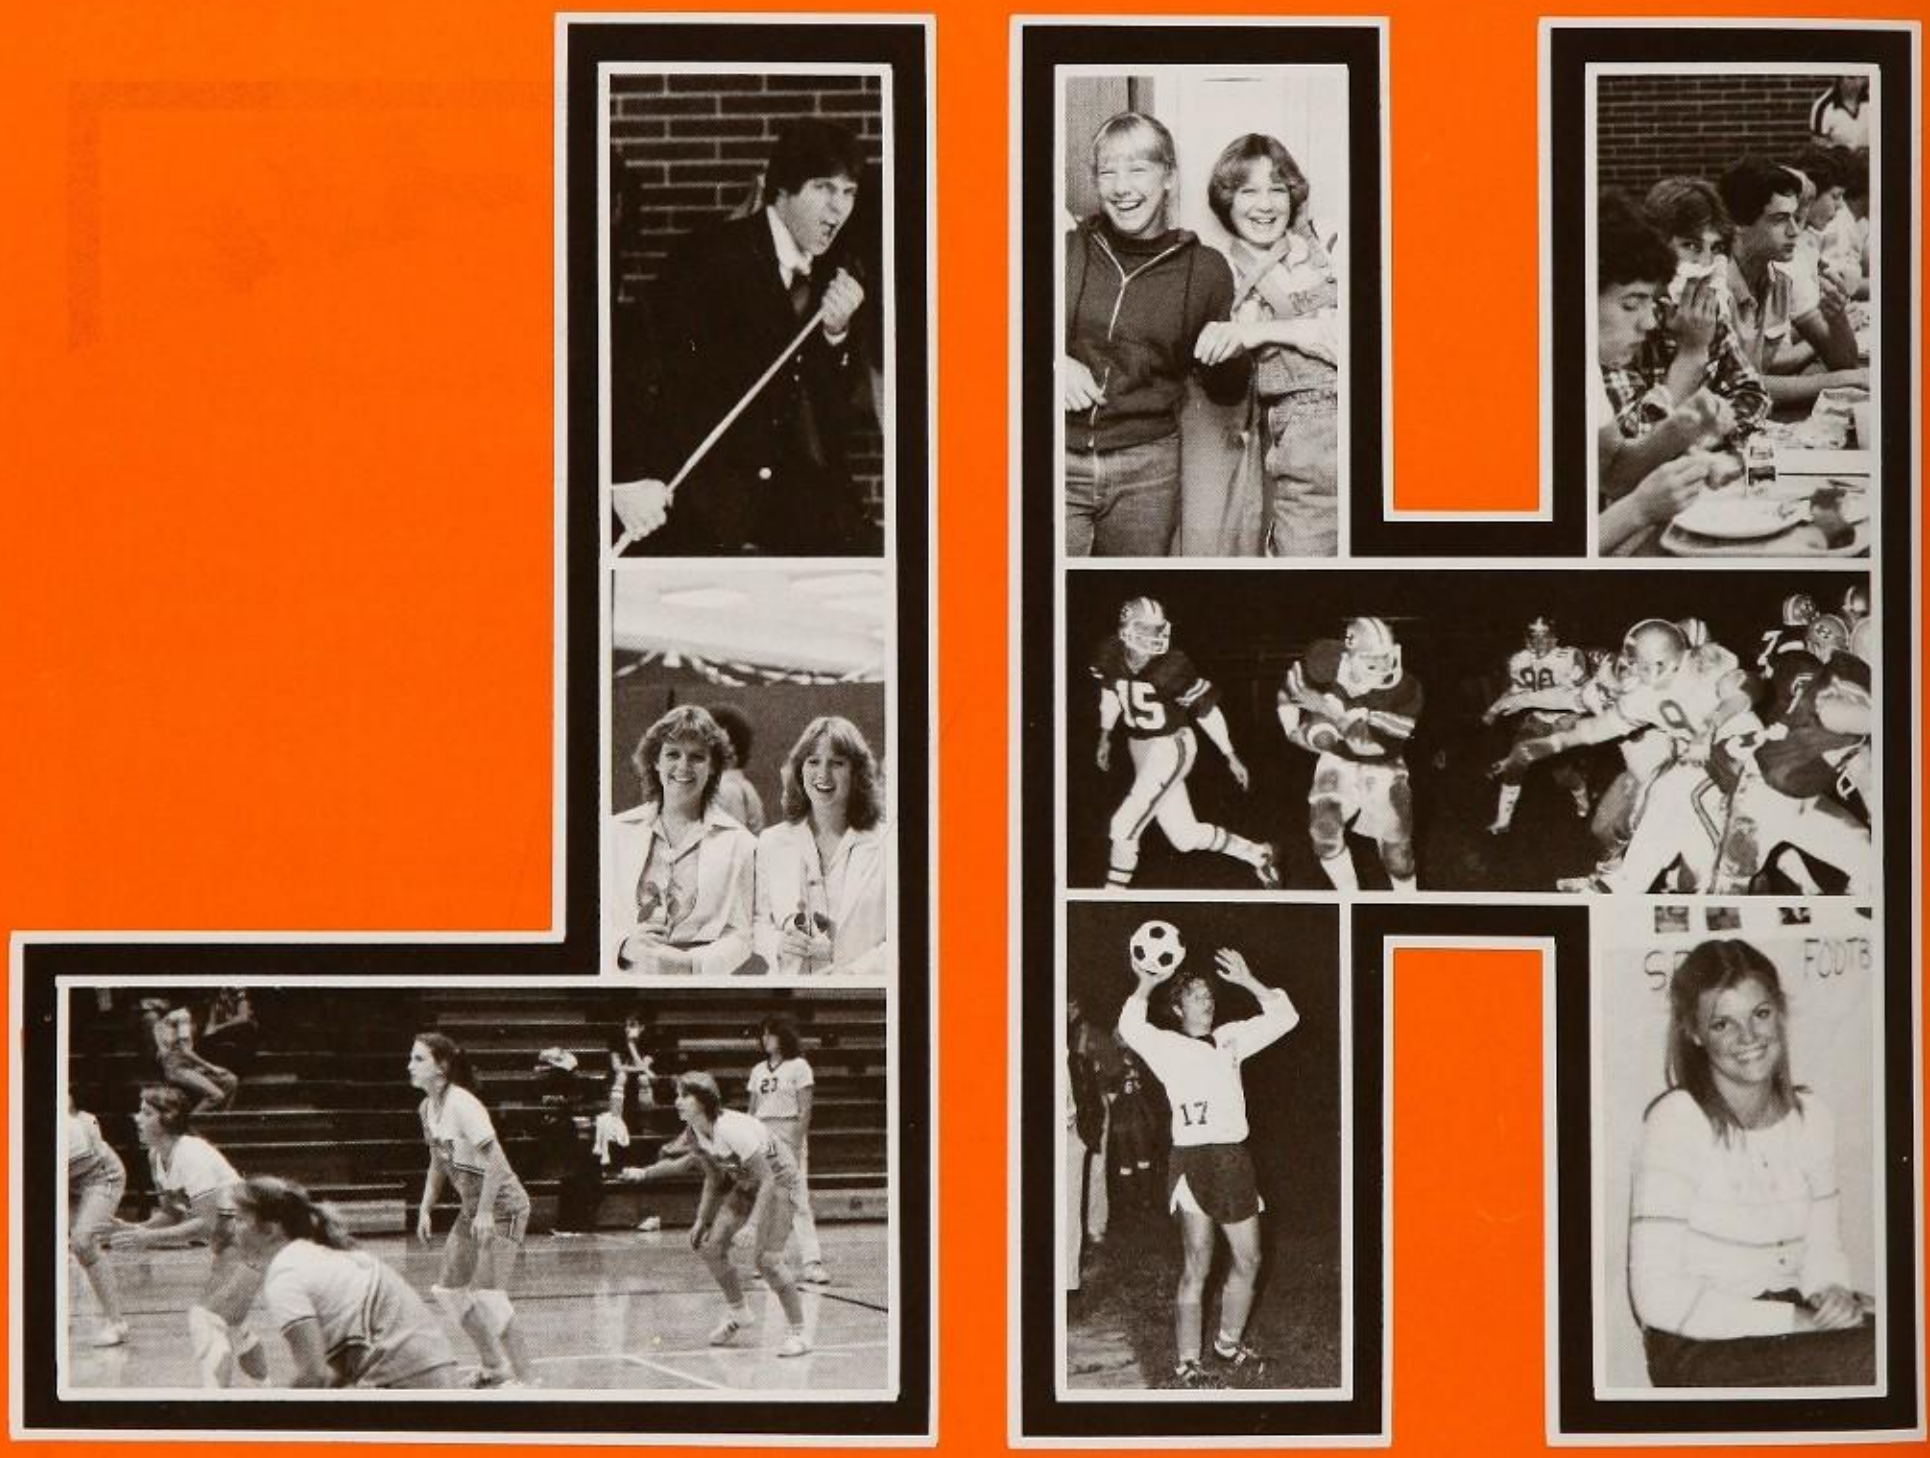
Seniors are ready to graduate, all others will have to wait.



The year will someday be a part of our past, but the memories we have will always last.

SPRING

'My Fair Lady' Captivates Crowds

On May 14, 15, 16 and 17 Hersey's Little Theater presented the Broadway musical My Fair Lady. This smash hit concluded the 1979-80 theatrical season.

The principal characters included seniors Rob Hayden as Professor Henry Higgins, and Leanne O'Neil and Debbie Sandlund, who shared the role of Eliza Doolittle. Supporting them were seniors Dave Hirsch as Freddy Eynsford-Hill, Harvey Bennett as Alfred P. Doolittle, and sophomore Howard Stauffer as Colonel Pickering. Other members of the cast and crew also contributed greatly to the success of the show.

The director of the show was Bruce Drouin. Working with him were Choral Director Richard Turasky, Technical Director Ed Moon, Choreographer Patty Byrnes, Orchestra Director James Rich and Joan Howdle, who worked on costumes and make-up.

Congratulations are in order to all who helped to make My Fair Lady a success. This play carried on the tradition of fine theatrical productions at Hersey.

Freddy (Dave Hirsch) worships the street where Eliza lives.

Townspeople sing and dance with joy.

Colonel Pickering calls Higgins to the phone.

Archery's Season Right On Target

The 1980 Archery Team began their season with a slow start, but they quickened their pace to prove once again they were state material. Although their record was 3-6 and they were in 6th place going into the conference meet, the Huskies toughened up and captured 3rd place. Maureen Frank was the overall Conference Champion with Peggy Perkins close behind in 13th place.

At the state tournament, Maureen received a third place medal and the team received sixth place. The downstate team consisted of Maureen Frank, Peggy Perkins, Maryann Maas, Shawn Beasley, Donna Hoffman, and Beth Watson.

The State of Illinois has dropped the Archery program because of the lack of interest from other schools. Only six of the fourteen schools in the MSL had archery teams. Coach Bullen feels bad that it was dropped because there was a lot of interest and potential talent at Hersey. "We had a young and inexperienced team; some of the girls had never shot before, but as conference came along, the skills had improved tremendously" stated Coach Bullen. Needless to say, Archery will be missed at Hersey. Congratulations on your success in your final season.

Gymnasts Voted "All-American"!

National High School All-American is one of the highest honors a team can receive, and this title was given to the Hersey Boys' Gymnastics Team for their outstanding 1980 season. Individual title winners were sophomore Greg Teets, junior Ken Von Ebers, senior Craig Rothermal, and Scott Davis, who was also voted Most Valuable Gymnast.

These gymnasts led the team to titles of North Division Conference Champions, District Champions, Sectional Champions, and a fourth place slot in the state meet. Besides having a 10-3 record, the team placed fourth in the Arlington Invitational, third in the York Invitational, and second in the Maine East Invitational.

Two individual state title winners were Greg Teets and Craig Rothermel. Teets qualified in finals for all events and all-around. He placed 10th on p-bars, ninth on floor, and sixth in all-around. Rothermel placed ninth on still rings.

Girls' Softball Fourth in North Division

The Girls' Softball Team had a very good season, finishing with an overall season record of 9-5. In the middle of the season they were 5-0 in the North Division. They were contenders for first place until the last game where they lost to Buffalo Grove.

It was a very strong team. First baseman Karla Schrader and shortstop Cathy Crews were both named All-Conference. The teams standing at the end of the season was fourth in the North Division. The junior varsity team finished with a record of 7-7.

According to Coach Sullivan, "Softball is a big thing at Hersey; all the kids really get up for it. They always practice as long as they can and work hard at it." Congratulations girls on a fine season.

Baseball Team Becomes Regional Champs

The 1980 baseball team, coached by Len Bending, finished a successful season with an 18-11 record. For the first time, Hersey became Regional Champs in baseball. They later lost in sectionals to a strong Barrington team, 1-0.

The captains this year were Tom Conlin, B.J. Jordan and Durson Durmus. Pitcher Tom Conlin was named Most Valuable Player. Tom was also named All-Conference, All-Area, and he participated in the Illinois Baseball Coaches All-Star game in Peoria. Center fielder B.J. Jordan was also named All-Conference. Durson Durmus played left field and was also a good hitter. Unfortunately, Durson was injured in the fifth game against Conant, which kept him out for the rest of the season. This was a great loss to the team. All in all, it was a successful season for the baseball team.

Track Team Shows Huskie Determination

The boys' track team, coached by Larry Travis, had a successful season with an overall record of twelve wins and four losses. Their outstanding talent shined through again at the Prospect and Falcon Invitationals where they received third place and first place respectively.

The team fought with determination to receive fourth place in both the Conference and District meets, which qualified Bob Psenka for discus, John Irwin for the two mile run, John Lesniak for shot put, and Eilic Brandon for long jump. They advanced to the State meet and did very well.

Along with the four qualifiers in individual events the two mile relay team also did very well. The team, consisting of Steve Kane, Cliff Blaine, Gary Pratt, and Craig Schachtschneider, got third place in the meet.

The boys' track team as a whole gave full effort to their events and ended with a successful season.

Girls' Track Sends Two Downstate

The 1980 Girls' Track and Field Team, coached by Claudia Oleson, had a victorious season. They ended their dual meet season with a record of 5-4, and placed eighth in Conference and seventh in Districts.

The teams most valuable member was Linda Walkowiak, who received a first in Districts and second in State for shotput. Carolyn Pasterski received second in Districts and also went to State for shotput, placing sixth. Other outstanding members were Cheryl Karnatz who was third in Districts, and Julie Joy who was fourth in Districts, both for the 440.

Boys Tennis Rallies Through Another Season

The boys' varsity tennis team, coached by Bill Reinhard, ended a season of hard competition with a 2-4 record in the North Division. Overall, this gave the Huskies an 8th place finish in conference.

Individual performances were given by 1st singles player Jay Woldenberg, who Coach Reinhard says is "probably the best 1st singles player I've had since coaching, especially as a freshman." Jay finished 4th in Districts. Don Ferris held the number two spot on the team followed by Mike DeFazio at 3rd singles.

The rest of the varsity team consisted of doubles players, Kee Sohn, Tom Neumeyer, David Kuhns, Bob McCoppin, Steve Parlier, Ken Sowatke, and Ed Dresselhuys.

Robin Glink Reigns Over Prom 1980

The 12th Annual Junior-Senior Prom held on May 30, at O'Hare Kennedy Holiday Inn, was a very memorable event. The dance started at 6:00 p.m. with dinner being served at 7:00 p.m.

The band "Choice" provided a romantic evening with its variety of music, including the theme song "Always Be Together". The strolling minstrels also provided a mellow mood.

The most exciting part of the evening was the crowning of Prom Queen 1980, Robin Glink. Members of her court included: Katie Baldwin, Denise McPheron, Debbie Sandlund, and Julie Swanson.

Each of the couples who attended the dance were given favors. The girls received mugs with the theme inscribed, and their dates received mugs with the Huskie emblem.

Special thanks are given to the junior class and their sponsor Mr. Blim for providing an evening full of joyful memories.

Hersey Students Enjoy Spring Activities

The Spring of 1980 was filled with exciting events and enthusiastic athletic teams.

Many students participated in extracurricular activities held in the spring. Some of these included archery, badminton, baseball, gymnastics, softball, tennis, and track.

The spring play, Prom, and Graduation were all well worth the wait as the year was coming to an end.

This time of year will never be forgotten by many students of John Hersey High School.

Golfers Tee-Off To Success!

The Huskie golfers had an exciting season this year that resulted in a record of 8 wins and 7 losses. Each team member contributed their best effort, but some of the players did exceptionally well. The District Championship was won by Dan Kochevar with an impressive score of 74, and Mike Passaglia took second with a score of 75. The overall team average for this year was 162.

The outstanding golfer this year was Senior Dan Kochevar who went downstate to represent Hersey. John Wascoe was voted the Most Improved Player for this year with a 42.4 average. There was a special award given this year and it went to Senior Tom Stoltz for breaking the most clubs.

Coached by Al Kintzle, the Hersey golf team showed tremendous effort and talent throughout the season.

Varsity Football Shows Spirit And Determination In Exciting 5-4 Season

Ron Psenka and Mike Behnke cause a fumble.

The 1980 Varsity Football Team finished the season with a 5-4 record. The record is deceiving because, with a few breaks here and there, they could have been serious contenders for post season play. With all things considered, 2 points stopped them short of their drive.

The Huskies lost the heartbreaking games to Fremd and Barrington by an identical score of 14-13. Coach Gliwa said it was quite difficult to accept these losses, but felt his only disappointment this season was that this fine bunch of athletes didn't get a chance to participate in the state playoffs. He said all four losses came to superb teams.

The one game that will be hard for any Hersey fan to forget was against Palatine where Keith More intercepted and returned a school record 101 yard interception for a touchdown in the closing minutes to win the game. It was truly an exciting contest.

Ron Polizzi was the most outstanding offensive player on the team. Ron caught 22 passes for over 300 yards and 5 touchdowns.

The defense had many standouts. Among them were Mike Behnke, Keith More, Bruce Erickson, and Steve Anzelmo.

Cheerleaders Fire Up Fans

John Hersey's football cheerleaders for the 1980 season were enthusiastic, involved in many activities and, above all, supportive of the team. During Homecoming Week the cheerleaders sold mums, had an alumni reunion, (which was a success) and surprised the football players with specially made pillow cases, and by decorating their houses. The cheerleaders also provided a great deal of pep to the pep assemblies to try to get the crowd rowdie.

Each of the captains did a great job of leading their squads. The captain of the freshman squad was Becky Schram and the sophomore captain was Chris Michaels. The junior varsity captain was Colleen Geraty. Captain of varsity cheerleaders was Terri Conlon who worked alongside Fall Club captain, Craig Schachtschneider. This was the third successful year that we have had Fall Club. Sponsors for all the cheerleaders were Mr. R.J. Hannon and Mrs. Bridget Lucas. They also did an exceptionally fine job.

Coronation Flows With Excitement

The 1980 Homecoming Coronation was held October 2 in the Hersey gymnasium. The senior class representatives did a beautiful job of decorating the gym to represent this year's theme "Homecoming In Heaven."

The suspense of the ceremony was broken when Karen Lange was crowned Queen, and Craig Schachtschneider was crowned King of Homecoming, 1980. The Queen's Court consisted of Connie Costello, Chris DeFazio, Lynn Foloky, Debbie Fulton, and Kelly Werth. The King's Court was comprised of Mike Conlon, Steve Michaels, Mike Schmidt, Tom Troppe, and Donn Vucovich. The master and mistress of ceremonies were Dave Brown and Chris Weinberg.

The Coronation program included a performance by On Stage and the King and Queen's traditional walk. As the ceremony came to a close, many felt that it was an unforgetable event.

The 1980 Homecoming Week brought about more than just spirit; it brought on fun and excitement as well.

It all began on Monday, September 29, with a morning assembly introducing the court, and proceeded with the start of the baby picture contest which would last all week. During the lunch hours the Rootbeer Drinking Contest was underway. But the day wasn't over yet; after school, clubs were busy putting together decorations for the halls. Band took first for their hall, Orchesis took second, and third was given to Yearbook.

Tuesday's activities included College T-Shirt Day and Angel and Devil Food Eating Contest during the lunch hours. This went along nicely with this year's theme, "Heavenly Homecoming."

Teacher-Class Dress-Up Day was Wednesday, along with the Bubble Gum Contest. The real excitement was at night with Powder Puff and Almost Anything Goes. The first game was the Senior A team against the Junior A team which the Seniors won. The second game was the Senior B team against the Junior B team which the Juniors won. The third game was a championship game between the winners. The Seniors ruled over the Juniors.

The week kept rolling with the Banana Eating Contest on Thursday. Coronation took place during the afternoon where Craig Schachtschneider and Karen Lange were crowned as King and Queen. They also presented the game ball that night to the soccer players.

Friday's activities started with Color Day and the dressing contest during the lunch hours. Later on, the Pep Assembly got everyone rowdie for the big game. After an early dismissal, the Car Rally got underway. Later that night the game ball was presented by Karen and Craig. The game was tense, and after many efforts the Huskies were defeated by Barrington, 14-13 in overtime.

Homecoming Week ended on Saturday, October 4, with the traditional Homecoming Dance. Music was provided by "Cotton Mouth." The dance was all made possible by Varsity Club, and all who attended had quite memorable experience.

Hersey's twelfth annual Homecoming Dance, held October 3, 1980, was a night to remember. "Cotton Mouth" entertained with music of all kinds, while couples danced the night away.

The 1980 Homecoming Court was introduced for their traditional dance. King Craig Schachtschneider and Queen Karen Lange led the dance and the rest of the court joined them on the floor.

Fall starts off a new year at Hersey. Students begin making new friends and rekindling old friendships. Freshmen and new students adjust to Hersey's way of life and seniors are looking forward to their best and last year at Hersey. Clubs begin to meet again to discuss the new year's happenings. Teams are being formed for the tough competition that awaits them. Homecoming, a big part of fall, is being planned and polished for a week to remember. Girls' Tennis Volleys Hard Through Season

The 1980 Girls' Tennis Team, consisting of seven seniors and seven juniors, did not have an outstanding season, but according to Coach Nancy Sullivan, helped to build a better team for next year. Miss Sullivan commented that the team did poorly because of difficult competition and an inexperienced team. Although the team as a whole won only six games, a few individual players did well. Jeanne Kostelny was named both most improved and most consistant player.

With the J.V.'s, whose record was eight wins and four losses, moving up, Coach Sullivan predicts a 3rd or 4th place in conference next season.

Outstanding Talent Arises In "Dead End"

On October 29, 30, and November 1, the Hersey Theater presented "Dead End". Set on a dead end street overlooking New York's East River in 1935, the play presented the story of a poverty-stricken group of "Dead End" kids and the antics and adventures they encountered.

The cast was definitely one of the largest Hersey has seen, consisting of thirty-three members. A good number of the cast were newcomers, who had no problem capturing the spirit of the theater. Starring in the leading roles were Mark Lasko as Tommy, Pat Troppe as Spit, Erick Holman as T.B., Pat O'Neil as Angel, and Bob Merritt as Dippy. Outstanding performances were also given by Tom Troppe as Gimpty, Bryant Harner as Baby Face Martin, and Julie Winters as Drina. Fine performances were also given by the remaining cast members.

Special congratulations should go to the director, Mr. Bruce Drouin and his theater staff, consisting of Technical Director, Mr. Edward Moon; Assistant to the director, Mrs. Joan Howdle; and Business manager, Mrs. Delores Lindgren.

The set showed evidence of long hours worked and displayed much realism. The Student Production Staff completed another excellent job.

Everyone involved on the show deserves recognition for presenting a true relation to the problems these kids faced growing up on this 1935, dead end street.

Soccer Makes Hersey History

Out of the six years that soccer has been played at Hersey, the 1980 soccer season goes down in history as being the best yet. This is the first year the team has won a post season tournament game, which was against Rolling Meadows with the score of 3-2. They had an overall record for the year of 3 wins, 12 losses, and 3 ties.

The team consisted of some very outstanding players. Felix Bachmeier, a junior, was named All-Conference. Eric Quidzinski, a freshman, was not only named All-Conference, but also Hersey's first All-Regional soccer player in the State of Illinois. Other skillfull players were senior Panos Topalis, junior Joe Cappuccitti, and junior goalie Dan Ludwigson.

The team was successfully coached by Walt Jasinski, Dean of Students, who says he wishes the season could of been longer, because toward the end, the boys were really starting to show real potential.

Boys' Cross Country Team Shows Huskie Determination

The 1980 Boys' Cross Country Team finished up their season with five wins and four losses in their dual meet competition. According to Coach Travis, the team wasn't as successful as it could have been due to many injuries and sicknesses through the season.

Despite the numerous injuries and sicknesses, the varsity team showed outstanding enthusiasm and dedication. Running everyday, the varsity team kept up the pace of eight to ten miles. However, some practices were shorter, concentrating on speed rather than endurance.

This year's varsity team consisted of seven seniors and seven juniors. All the runners should be commended for their hard work.

Girls' Cross Country Runs For Success

The 1980 Girls' Cross Country Team had a much-improved season over last year, with an overall record of 3-3. Connie Costello and Laurel Wagner led the way to a tie for sixth place in the conference meet, getting tenth and eleventh, respectively, which earned them an All-Conference title. They also finished in the top fifteen in the district meet, with strong finishes by the rest of the team to gain them a seventh place finish.

Besides the regular conference meets, the girls had invitationals on Saturdays at Antoich, Woodstock, Homewood-Flossmoor, and Maine West, where there were as many as 25 schools competing.

The team consisted of two seniors, four juniors, three sophomores, and one freshman. It was a small team, but everyone worked hard to make it a good season.

Girls' Swim Team Splashes To Victory

The 1980-81 Girls' Swim Team had a very good season. They finished with ten wins and four losses. This record made them the best team in District 214.

This year the team placed sixth in conference and seventh in districts. All the girls did a good job. However, a few girls did exceptionally well. Junior Kelly Davis placed first in the 100 yd. backstroke and 100 yd. butterfly in the conference and district meets. Also placing first in both meets was freshmen Lisa Hoffmann in the 50 yd. freestyle. Since both girls did so well, Lisa and Kelly advanced to the state finals. Besides competing in their individual events, they swam in the 200 yd. medley relay with sophomores Amy Walkowiak and Lori Conlin.

Everyday from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., the team practiced hard at Wheeling High School. Along with Herb Parsons, who has coached the swim team for many years, there were also two new coaches, Patti Walker and Joan Callan.

Next year should be another good season for the Girls' Swim Team with all but two swimmers returning.

Volleyball Gives It Their All

The 1980 Varsity Volleyball Team, coached by Kay Duba, ended the season with a conference record of 4-8. Their record, however, doesn't convey the amount of pep, talent, and energy present at all the games.

"There were many close, action-packed games," commented Coach Duba, "and there was alot of tough competition this year."

The team consisted of five seniors, four juniors, and one sophomore. Chris DeFazio was named Most Valuable Player.

The JV Team had a great season with a record of 5-8. They were coached by Betsy Betker.

The Freshman Team, with Coach Teri Swanson, also did well. They finished the season with a 6-8 record.

WINTER

Oliver!

Oliver!, a most spectacular presentation, was put on in the Little Theatre on Feburary 10, 12, 13 and 14, 1981, at 8:00 p.m. The sensational cast was composed of over sixty-three members, a third of whom were younger than high school age.

Oliver! is the story of a young boy who lives in an 1850 British workhouse. After sassing back to the headmaster, Mr. Bumble (Dave Brown), Oliver (seventh grader Peter Cella) is sold to a pair of funeral directors, Mr. and Mrs. Sowerberry (John Teichman and Julie Winters). Despising his new home, Oliver runs away and quickly meets up with the sly Artful Dodger (Lou Cella) who introduces him to Fagin (Bryant Harner) and his theives. Oliver is taught to steal and through his association with the criminal, Fagin, meets the unmerciful Bill Sikes (Tony Kemp) and Bill's faithful girlfriend, Nancy (Liz Bartlow). In seeking freedom, Oliver finds rich old Mr. Brownlow (Mike Kolls), who turns out to be his maternal grandfather.

Thanks to the expertise of a number of people, this musical went over superbly. Mr. Bruce Drouin is credited with directing this fine production while Mr. Richard Turasky directed the musical aspects. Mr. E.C. Moon took care of the technical crew and Mrs. Joan Howdle did a superb job with costumes, makeup and publicity, as was seen by the authenticity of the casts apparel. Mr. Michael Hetzel conducted the Pit Band which consisted of twenty-two members.

Influential students who aided in the production were: Sophomore Stephanie Uhl, Assistant to the Director and Senior Corey Gogola who was the Stage Manager. The artwork for the posters and programs was designed by Junior Carrie Costello. Thanks to a crew of thirty-seven, the scene changes were all but perfect, the costumes were accurate, and the makeup was quite good.

Even the worst snow storm of the season didn't discourage people from seeing this extraordinary performance which has become a Hersey Theatre tradition.

Merry Christmas Hersey Style!

Hersey's annual Christmas Assembly was held in the gym on Friday, December 19, and proved to be a great success. The various groups were very devoted and put many hours of practice and hard work into this performance.

Seven groups participated in the assembly. The Pomberets performed to "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer", and Orchesis danced to a Jackson Brown sound. The Color Guard performed for the first time this year. A.F.S. displayed Christmas customs in different countries. On Stage sang and acted out the song "Fruitcake." Student Council members did a skit to The Grinch Who Stole Christmas, with the help of Mr. Boehm as the Grinch. They also organized and pulled together the assembly. To conclude the assembly, the choir, faculty, and alumni sang Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" in accompanyment with the band. The whole assembly took about one half hour and was enjoyed by everyone.

Students, U.S. Hostages Freed On Same Day

This year's graduation ceremony was held in Hersey's theater on January 20, with 52 students from the class of '81 participating. Mr. Michael Kozanecki, a teacher at Hersey, was chosen by the students themselves to speak at the ceremony.

His speech had many words of wisdom for the grads as well as thoughts regarding the past years at Hersey and the many years to come in their futures.

Mr. Kozanecki also made the humorous comparison that there were 52 students graduating and 52 hostages from Iran being freed on the same day.

Winterball Turnabout Celebrates Good Times

Mark Kmety and Jennifer Ciesar danced the night away.

The winter dance this year was entitled Winterball Turnabout and was held on January 31, 1981, in the Hersey Cafeteria. The entrance into the cafeteria was a gateway into a winter wonderland of snow, trees and snowmen.

The dancing started at 8:00 and ended at 11:00. Most of the couples took advantage of this dancing time, as "Kicks" supplied the music for the evening. At 9:00 p.m. all the couples started slow dancing to the theme song, "Let Me Love You Tonight." Following that, the 1981 Winterball/Turnabout Court was announced by Mark Kmety. The court consisted of Frank de Alba, Theo Denaxes, Bruce Erickson, Dave Gilbreth and Dan Kochevar, who later went up on stage and began to sing while many others joined in.

The night ended with couples going to elegant restaurants. It was another very successful dance, and many thanks go to the Senior Student Council members and advisor, Mr. Blim, who sponsored it.

Winter Fun At Hersey . . .

Although the winter was quite calm as far as snow is concerned, students here at Hersey made up for that loss by occupying their time with other activities.

Winter sports such as Girls' and Boys' Basketball, Girls' Gymnastics, Wrestling, and Boys' Swimming were a majority of the extra-curricular activities. The Christmas Assembly also took place and put a spice into everyone's spirit of winter. Not long after the winter break did the traditional Turnabout Dance come around. Students found this to be an exciting part of the season which left all at Hersey with a satisfying winter to remember.

Boys' Swim Team Plunges Ahead

Competitive swimming is one of the most physically demanding sports and this year's Boys' Swim Team proved that they had what it takes to compete as a team. Although their record was 4-9, they improved greatly throughout the season. This year's varsity team consisted of seniors Larry Fumagalli and Most Valuable Player John Wilcox, juniors Todd Younger and Tim Threlkeld, and sophomores Mike Baldwin, Paul Gin, Frank DiMaggio, Steve LaBeau, Ron McPheron, and diver Keith Null.

The frosh-soph team had a lot of promising swimmers that really worked as a team. Coaches Dan Young and Jim Davies coached the boys well, both as a team and as individuals.

Girls' Gymnastics Team Beams With Success

During the State Meet, Wendy Specht took an outstanding fourth place.

Using her graceful ability, Joan Spiel captures the audiences' attention.

The Girls Gymnastics Team performed with superior ability during the 1980-81 season. The team consisted of many hard-working and talented girls.

The gymnasts were very proud to bring home trophies for their accomplishments of taking first place in Conference, Districts, and Sectionals. They also finished fifth at the state meet held at Palatine High School.

Coach Sadler and her assistants, Miss Ost and Mrs. Feiza, and the gymnastic team voted to decide who would be Most Valuable Gymnast. The winners of this honor were Joan Spiel and Wendy Specht.

Although the gymnastics team will be losing seniors Chris Pfeifer and Julie Barut, the outlook for next year is promising for the remaining gymnasts.

Basketball Team Shoots for VICTORY!

The members of the 1980-81 Boys Basketball Team demonstrated dedication and enthusiasm. They all played and worked very well together, according to Varsity Coach John Lucas.

Although the 12-13 overall team record may not reflect all this effort, the team's dedication and talent were noticed by the fans and the opposing teams.

The team finished the season with a 7-5 conference record, tying Wheeling for second place North division honors.

Some of their best games and toughest competitions were played against Fremd, Barrington, Arlington, and Waukegan East, where they displayed their finest performances.

This year's team awards were voted by the players themselves. Senior Dave Gilbreth received Most Valuable Player while the Sportsmanship title was awarded to Senior Dan Kochevar. The Hustle Award, which is given to the player who exhibits 110% consistantly, was received by Senior Mike Norris. The outstanding seniors this year were Dave Gilbreth, Tom Huene, Mike Norris, Dan Kochevar, Paul Augustyn, Scott Wexler, and John Rogala.

This year's MVP, Dave Gilbreth, shattered the existing Huskie record board. His outstanding records include: most points in a single game, 53; most points per season, 815: most career points, 1536; most free-throws in a game, 22; most free-throws in a season, 204; and the most free-throws in one career, 400.

Girls Basketball Team Rebuilds

This year, after losing six senior starters and two prominent juniors, the girls team was put in a position to rebuild itself.Left in this situation the team was determined to make the best of their season. This young team always put forth full effort and never gave up. They ended their season with an overall record of 4 and 18. Many of their games were lost within a slim margin. The team did not consist of five definite starters. These positions were rotated among the team members. Center, Carolyn Pasterski wound up her season as leading team scorer, as well as leading the conference in rebounds. She was also voted to the All-Conference Team. These girls deserve recognition for all their hard work and dedication.

Girls' Bowling Team is Conference Champs

The 1980-81 Hersey Girls' Bowling Team had a great season with an overall record of eight wins, two losses, and two ties. They placed first in conference and fourth in districts.

The varsity team was led by Senior Kim Schultz with an average of 168. Senior Karen Koch followed with a strong 159 average. Other bowlers were Senior Sue Alseth and Freshman Gloria Gieske, both with an average of 156. Also helping out the team were Sophomore Kim Larsen with a 149 average and Senior Linda Trewin with a 145 average.

The teams' practices were held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at Thunderbird Lanes. Meets were held on Mondays and Fridays at Arlington Lanes. The teams success was due to Walt Jasinskis' coaching and total team effort.

Wrestlers Show Excellence!

The 1980-81 Wrestling Team proved to be one of the most successful in this school's history. The Huskies took first in the Glenbrook South Invitational, Conference, Districts, Sectionals, and placed eighth in the State Meet. This year was the first year that Hersey wrestlers ever took first place in Sectionals.

There were many outstanding wrestlers who contributed to the teams excellence, particularly those who went downstate. These included Brian Peterson, Bob Watters, Dave Mey, Ken Arend, and Scott Shoub, who was the most improved wrestler. The captains of this year's team were Tom Bieschke, Dave Mey, and Ken Arend. Dave and Ken were also voted the Most Valuable Wrestlers. Mr. Mann commented on the team as being "one of the best in quite a few years."

The girls practiced five hours a week, to prepare themselves for each meet. During each wrestling meet the girls cheered the wrestlers in hopes for a victory.

The captain of the squad this year was Judy Suerth and the co-captain was Pam Woodman. The sponsor for the wrestling cheerleaders was Mrs. Balinski, who enjoyed working with the girls very much.

The wrestling team appreciated the great support that the cheerleaders had given them. Each girl felt that all the hard work and effort they put in this wrestling season was well worth it.

Orchesis 'Footloose and Fancyfree!'

The 1980-81 Orchesis dance group once again dazzled and entertained Hersey students and faculty throughout the year with its half-time performances and annual show. This year Orchesis consisted of twenty-five people interested in dancing, with tryouts held in the spring. They performed throughout the year at football and basketball half-times, the Christmas Assembly, and their final performance, which was a three day show held in the theatre.

This year's show was held March 5,6,7 and was called "Footloose and Fancyfree". From the sixteen dances in the show, two of these were presented in the District show and two were in competition for the Illinois State Dance Festival.

The styles in the show this year included: Ballet, belly dancing, jazz, modern, abstract and mime.

There were two new additions and surprises to Orcheses this year. The new sponsor, Miss Holly Ost, replaced Mrs. Vicki Jacobs. Another new addition this year was the first males ever to join the group.

All the hard work and practices were all worth the effort, which helped bring Orchesis success this year.

Pomberets Start New Tradition

During the 1980-81 school year the Pomberets went to many competitions, performed at football and basketball games, promoted school spirit during pep assemblies and participated in various school activities.

Their competitions were held at University of Illinois, Northern Illinois, Soldiers Field, and the Morris Illinois Corn Festival. Their most exciting competition was held at Cape Code, Mass., in April.

Not only did they perform at competitions with the band, they also did the football halftime crowd pleaser marching to our bands tremendous sounds. They decided however, to stick to their traditional basketball Halftime performing to records.

At pep assemblies, they did a great job firing up the crowd and getting everyone involved in the excitement.

The talented corps consisted of 32 girls. Captain President Lynn Foloky, Captain Secretary Kelsey Williams, and sponsor Mr. Hetzel, lead them to a most fun and rewarding year.

Strike Up The Band!

The 1980-'81 Hersey Band was a top competitor in Illinois again this year. The band has changed some traditional ways of performing in an attempt to bring their performance more up to date.

The band began their season in the fall when the marching band and their new addition, the Pomberets, performed during half-time of home football games. The Twirlers and the Color Guard also performed at this time. After football season the band broke into groups of Symphonic Winds and Concert Band. Then they held performances and sponsored other events throughout the year.

The band was busy this year participating in many competitions. A few of them were the Soldier Field Music Bowl I, Octoberfest, and University of Illinois and Northern Illinois University Field Parades. Their big competion this year took place in Cape Cod, Massachusetts. All groups involved in band participated in a performance.

The annual Pops Concert took place in March. The guest this year was Henry Cuesta.

Mr. Rich directed the band this year. His assistant in directing was Mike Hetzel. The Drum Majors were Dave Brown and Rick Fritsch.

Concert Choir Strives for Perfection

This year's Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Turasky, was very successful. They worked well together and achieved many things.

The choir opened the year with a concert which was held in the Little Theater. In December at the Christmas concert, the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus" was performed by all choirs, alumni, family members and faculty with the Syphonic Winds accompanying them.

As in the past years, the choir participated in the District 214 Choral Festival. It was held at Wheeling and Handel's "Messiah" was performed.

The most unique quality of this year's group was their sense of unity and dedication. They never stopped working together to reach their highest goals.

"On Stage" Works Together To Succeed

"On Stage" is a select group of 25 singers and 6 accompanists. They are under the direction of Mr. Turasky.

In addition to daily rehearsals, participation in "On Stage" requires many hours of individual practice.

The hours of extra practice paid off in February when "On Stage" was rated superior and Best of Class at the Oak Lawn Jazz Festival. Later in the year they continued to travel to contests. They attended a competition in Watseka, Illinois and a prestigious show choir competition in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Besides performing for Hersey audiences, "On Stage" performed for various organizations around the community. They toured the junior highs and sang for many senior citizen groups.

Throughout the year, "On Stage" continued to give spectacular performances. They thrilled audiences and put smiles on many faces.

Yearbook Staff Records Huskie Happenings

The 1980-81 Yearbook Staff worked hard throughout the year. To start, the staff learned yearbook techniques and terms so that they could do excellent work on their pages.

There was much extra time put into this yearbook by the thirty-one students. Although there were quite a few staff members who graduated in January, the remaining staff just worked that much harder to make it a success.

This hard working group was led by the Editor-in-Chief Ellie Bondzinski. Her job was to combine all the work of the section editors to make sure the pages were correct and on time for the deadline. The section editors consist of Connie Costello as Copy Editor; Ro Peter as Index Editor; Tricia Ford as Senior Directory Editor; Laura Payne as Academic and Faculty Editor; Karen Lange as Classes Editor; Sue Coleman as Clubs Editor; Cindy Frankiewicz as Activities Editor; Kathy Kersting as Boys Sports Editor; Chris DeFazio and Kerry Hogan as Girls Sports Editors; and Rose Uva as Photo Editor.

Along with all the hard work put in by the staff there was tremendous amounts of free time given up by their advisor, Mr. Kozanecki. This yearbook would never have been possible without his patience and organization. You're the best Koz!

From Beginning to End, 'Correspondent' Covers It All

Hersey's fine journalistic newspaper, The Correspondent, under the direction of Mr. Dan McDonell, has greatly improved its bi-weekly issues in an attempt to bring the honor of All American Newspaper back to John Hersey. Comprising the staff are twenty-five members, five of whom are editors. Some of these students come from Journalism classes, but the majority of them are students who are willing to work hard. Many of these are interested in training for future journalistic endeavors. Most staff members are upperclassmen although there are a few sophomores and freshmen.

Short of actual printing, the staff is solely responsible for putting out the paper. They not only do the reporting, the typesetting, the want-ads, and advertisements, but also the layouts. The only outside help they receive is in the printing which is done by Ray and Sons of Mt. Prospect.

According to Mr. McDonell, the paper is not fun, but a great deal of hard work! The Correspondent staff has the longest running season, beginning in early August and continuing until June. For eight solid months, the staff works hard conducting interviews, typing up stories, drawing layouts, meeting deadlines, and filling quotas. Matt Biegert, Editor-In-Chief, tells of working on Sundays to perfect every aspect of their work.

This year the newspaper has published many controversial editorials which have kept everyone interested and anticipating each new issue!

Student Council Has Busy Year

Student Council, an organization made up of 15 to 20 representatives from each class, was very involved in activities this year. Some were traditional activities such as Grass Day, when they plant flowers and generally clean up the school grounds; Penny Day, to support the orphans they sponsor; Valentine telegrams; Christmas Assembly; and Spirit Week. New this year were the computer dating match-ups, float competition during Homecoming Week, and sending Christmas cards to the teachers.

The four officers this year were President Karen Lange, Vice-president Dave Adelman, Recording Secretary Lynn Foloky, and Treasurer Rose Vazzano. These four, along with any committee chairmen, make up the Executive Board. They meet once a week to set up the agenda for Student Council meetings, approve new committees, check point totals for Council members, and take care of anything that comes up. Their hard work and good leadership helped Student Council to be a success this year.

Honor Society Encourages Scholarship and Service

Hersey's National Honor Society has many outstanding members who contribute their efforts in many extracurricular activities. Many of these activities require the members to do some very hard work.

To become a member of the National Honor Society a student must meet three criteria. The first is to maintain a grade point average of at least 4.5. Each year members must obtain recommendations from teachers on their abilities in leadership, service, and character. Members also have to complete specified service projects.

The service projects National Honor Society has been involved with this year are the NHS Blood Drive and Teacher-Parent Conference Open House hosts. They also raised money for the Sun Times Neediest Families Fund, and money to benefit Nate VanDeGraaff at the 1981 Deaf Olympics. In the spring, they contributed to the Shamrocks for Dystrophy collection. Members also gathered clothes to give to the Salvation Army and towels to give to the American Cancer Society.

I Before E When It Comes to Achieving

The 1980-81 Individual Event Speech Team consisted of 12 members. Their most consistantly outstanding speaker was Tom Troppe who received several awards, including second in districts and fifth in sectionals for his remarkable performances in prose. Other notable speakers were seniors Robert Toba, Lou Cella, Wendy Wagner; junior Missy Shell; sophomore Colleen Kelly; and freshman Carolyn Kersemeier.

Individual Event's season began in November and ended in February. There are 11 categories and each student specializes in his own event. Hersey speakers were noted for their specialities in prose, original oration, verse, and radio.

The team was coached by Mr. Bellito and he was assisted by Mrs. Coffman. Both coaches felt that their team was successful and quite talented.

It's Debatable!

This years Debate Team, sparked by great determination, took home over 30 individual and team trophies. This group of competitive arguers was coached by Mr. McSherry and Mr. Given.

Debate always has a different topic to discuss every year. This year the subject was consumer protection. All the debaters had to do research to find information for and against this topic.

The team attended 16 tournaments. Highlights of the varsity season was receiving a first place award for District 214's Invitational, first place award for Northern Illinois University Invitational, and second place award for Illinois Speech and Theatre State Debate Invitational.

Outstanding participants of the varsity team were Dave Haase, Debbie Fulton, and Chris Soyka. Junior Varsity also had two exceptionally skilled debaters who were Matt Biegert and Liz Bartlow.

Cheerleaders Strive for Spirit

One of the most enthusiastic groups at Hersey are the cheerleaders. They keep the crowds going at all the games with plenty of effort. Becoming a cheerleader is not an easy task. There are tryouts held before each football and basketball season. Anyone that is interested can tryout. The judges consist of coaches, teachers and alumni cheerleaders.

In addition to the cheerleaders there is the Fall Club, which have been cheering with the girls for three years. The Fall Club is made up of a group of eight guys, who also have to tryout to earn their positions. Hersey is still the only school in the Mid-Suburban Conference to have guys on the cheerleading squads. The addition of guys has proven to be a great asset these past years.

Mrs. Bridget Lucas and Mr. Robert Hannon co-sponsor the cheerleaders. They have been coaching for three years. One night a week for two hours they spend teaching the squads different routines.

The captains for this year's Football squads were Terry Conlon and Craig Schachtschneider for Varsity, Colleen Geraty for Junior Varsity, Chris Michaels for Sophomore, and Becky Schram for the Freshman squad.

Providing the leadership for this year's basketball cheerleaders were as follows: Caren Gauvreau and Craig Schachtschneider for Varsity, Sandy Reeve for girl's Varsity, Beth Watson for Sophomore and the Freshman captain was Kathy Christopherson.

Cheerleading requires plenty of hard work and practice. All the dedication that the cheerleaders put in to their work always pays off. They always seem to work together and spread the Huskie spirit around to everyone.

A.F.S. Makes Friends Around the World

A.F.S. has been a part of Hersey since 1968. Since that time, they have hosted 30 A.F.S. students from 24 different countries and 4 Americans on the Domestic exchange program. Thirty-one Hersey students have participated in the AFS Americans Abroad or Domestic Programs.

This year at Hersey we had three Americans Abroad students: Annette Johanson from Denmark, Claudia Pinto from Chile, and Chris Raschke from Brazil. We also had one domestic exchange from Menominee, Michigan, Angie Zagrodnik.

A.F.S. has helped many people explore different lands and experience new cultures. It is very much a part of Hersey Life.

S.O.S. Comes to the Rescue!

Service Over Self (S.O.S.) is a growing club, designed to get students involved in their community. The club works with people in need of help, recognizing the needs of pre-school Head Start children to Senior citizens. This year's officers are President Ellen Fabbrini, Vice-President Marilu Powers, Treasurer Doug Ward and Secretary Keith Wilhelm.

The clubs list of activities has increased with the years and are too numerous to mention. A few of their major projects are Senior Citizens Clean Up Day where the students do house and yard work for the elderly, clothing drives and distribution, olympics for the retarded, Christmas and Easter parties for head start children, remembering the elderly on holidays, a christmas toy drive for needy children, etc.

Faculty advisor Will Kozlowski works many long hours along with the students to be sure no one goes unnoticed.

THE GRAND STANDS

48

27 53

45

From these wonderful years of our lifes,

we have these scattered pictures to help us to remember.

So we find ourselves looking back to our yesterdays,

recalling how we thought time would last forever.

What we feel and smile at the most,

are the moments together our hearts dearly miss.

We had a dream, and tried to achieve,

sometimes victory, sometimes defeat-but we understand.

We choose opportunity, giving ourselves a chance to be someone, to make our lives involved.

Building ourselves a world of constant love and happiness that continually grew and revolved.
Taken into the wind and molded by the hands of time,
we accomplished much and felt our minds learning.
Our lives filled with colors, painting our open eyes with freedom, hope and yearning.
And though our youth has spoken it's shallow end,
we mustn't bid these times goodbye-
Because these scattered pictures clearly say, these precious years will never fade and die.

English/Fine Arts Division Challenges Hersey Students

The English/Fine Arts Division offers instuction in the areas of English, art, and music. The faculty in this division grew larger this year with the addition of Mr. Hetzel, bringing the total to twenty-two teachers. Besides adding a new teacher, a new course was added to the curriculum for 1980-1981. Advanced Placement English was offered to those students interested in preparing for a test which offers college credit for work completed in high school.

The E.F.A. Division once again directed many activities and programs. The Debate Team, coached by Mr. McSherry, and the Individual Speech Team coached by Mr. Bellito, are two speech activities included in this department.

The Drama department, under the direction of Mr. Drouin, put to use a lot of young talent and came up with three full length plays and a night of one act plays.

Journalism is another area in the division which deserves recognition. This year the Correspondent, the school newspaper, was advised by Mr. McDonell, and Mr. Kozanecki continued to direct the publication of the award winning yearbook Endeavor.

An area of the department which continues to draw attention throughout the state is music. Mr. Rich and Mr. Hetzel directed the bands, and Mr. Turasky directed the choral groups as well as "On Stage". Both the band and choral groups earned many awards during the year.

Two noteworthy accomplishments of the English-/Fine Arts Division were the Arts Unlimited Program, which was a month long festival of the arts, and the publication of the literary art supplement at the back of the yearbook, which included student art, writing, and musical composition.

This large division adds many things to the school and it would not be the success that it is without the dedication of many students and teachers involved in this division.

Math-Science Widens Horizons

The Math-Science Department, headed by Mr. Donald Hruby, had a very successful year. There was an addition to the staff of Mrs. Dorothy O'Connell. She was a long term substitute for Mr. Burt, who underwent surgery.

The department also added many new classes to the curriculum. Microbiology, which hasn't been offered for a few years, was reinstated along with many new and advanced courses. Informal Geometry, Advanced Placement Chemistry, Computer Math 2, and two levels of Advanced Placement Calculus offer a challenge to Hersey students.

Hersey has added additional computers to the division, also. They have become very popular- both in and out of the classroom.

Finally, there is the Math-Science Resource Room for a quiet place to relax and study.

Enthusiasm from both teachers and students helped to make this department a success.

Social Science And Foreign Language

The Social Science and Foreign Language Departments offered a large selection of classes this year. Mr. Alex Schmidt has headed the department of sixteen for the last thirteen years. This past year a slight change was made in the staff. Mrs. Barbara Mayer was here first semester for Mr. Zamir while he was on leave.

Some of the different classes are Sociology and Psychology where students learn about themselves and how other societies live. U.S. History taught students about America's past. Foreign Language exposed students to a new language that will help them in the future.

The department is always making constructive course changes. Advanced placement U.S. History was this years addition to the selection of classes.

The department is always getting bright ideas for the future.

Practical Arts Continues To Expand

The Practical Arts Division is made up of business education, home economics, and industrial arts. The division, headed by Mr. John Hangey welcomed two new teachers this year: Joanna Bucci, who teaches in the business education department, and Betsy Betker, new in the home economics department. The division added a class this year called Parenting.

The Practical Arts staff is working toward getting more students involved in their many occupational areas. Students can choose from classes such as typing, accounting, and auto mechanics. Male and female participation is equally encouraged in all courses.

This year the division had their DAVTE evaluation which is given once every five years. This evaluation looks at the programs offered and provides input for improvement and update.

The department continues to expand by adding new courses and increasing enrollment in classes already being offered.

Fun and Fitness In Physical Education

P.E. is a class that all students are required to take every semester they are in school. There have been a few changes in this department since last year. One was the addition of three new teachers: Holly Ost, orchesis supervisor and assistant gymnastics coach; Terri Swanson, freshman volleyball coach; and Hal Hilmer, girls' athletics trainer and Health and First Aid teacher. Discontinuing the Leader's program and separating the Freshman - Sophomore gym classes from the Junior - Senior classes were two other changes from last year.

Junior and Senior classes were permitted to choose from a number of different units such as weight training, yoga, basketball, badminton, rollerskating, bowling, and many others.

This area of study provides opportunities for students to learn while having fun.

Growth Is Evident for Deaf Ed.

The deaf education program at Hersey has certainly shown signs of progress and expansion. Because of the increasing enrollment of students, five new teachers have been added to the staff. In addition, more rooms are being occupied for classes. Most exciting of the program's expansions is the beginning of work with Apple Computers. The computers are being programed for work in math classes, but the program's Chairperson, Louise Wilson, is hoping for the development of a program in Data Processing.

The deaf students come from a wide-spread regional area. This year there are 76 students enrolled in the program. The department has twelve teachers, three interpreters, two counselors and one secretary. The courses offered to the students are mostly self-contained, but many students are integrated into regular classes along with an interpreter to interpret information to them.

Along with the above accomplishments, the deaf students at Hersey are involved in sports and other school activities. It is evident that the deaf education program at Hersey is a success.

Library/A.V. Distributes Many Resources

Hersey classes are not the only place for one to increase his knowledge, but now almost all students look to the library as the center of relaxing study. The library contains a variety of resources such as books, magazines, records, tapes, typewriters, and anything else one can think of. It serves the students as well as the teachers with valuable information. This year's staff consists of Head Librarian, Mr. Olenik; Assistant Librarian, Mrs. Rothermel; and Instructional Assistants, Mrs. Nordli and Mrs. Stoller. Study Hall Supervisors, Mrs. Fabbrini and Mr. McCullough should also be recognized for their assistance.

Audio-Visual is also a major department when it comes to the need for equipment. Hersey Audio-Visual has it all. Not only is the staff made up of Educational Support Personal Workers, but many interested students. Countless amounts of audio-visual equipment are found here and serve the student body and faculty members. Film projectors, slide projectors, and cameras are just a few of the widely used items in this department. Head of the Audio-Visual Department is Mr. Sickles; Secretary, Mrs. Bondzinski; and Instructional Assistant, Mrs. Poziemski. Many thanks to all of the help and services they have allocated.

Pupil Personnel Department Gives Helping Hand

The Pupil Personnel Service (PPS) is headed by Mr. Donald Henne. The program consists of many fine counselors who help students with problems both at school and at home.

Also working with the department are many specialists, including Carol Steenbock, school psychologist; Dolores Scully, school nurse; Cathy Bieber, speech therapist; Guy Karm, police counselor; Jack Konko, social worker; and our new deaf ed. counselor, Joan Callen.

The college career program is run by Mr. Blim and Mr. Perpitch. This is to help Junior and Senior students find information concerning their college and career choices.

The Individual Resourse program (IR), headed by Mr. Robert Leece, is a special Education program which consist of about 100 students.

The Pupil Personnel Service has done a wonderful job helping students throughout the year!

The end of another action packed year has come to a conclusion. I feel the 1980-81 yearbook staff has tried and succeeded to capture special moments for all of us to hold onto for future years. This yearbook would not have been possible without the student and faculty bodies, who managed to jump in front of a yearbook photographer in hopes of appearing in this book.

Special thanks are in order for some special people. I would like to have this opportunity to thank Mr. Dennis Eder of American Yearbook Company, and also Mr. and Mrs. Norb Dompke and their Root Photographers for their outstanding photography and service. Thanks go to Kathy Kersting (Class of '81) for her excellent art work for our cover design. Most of all, I would like to give a special thank you to Mr. Mike Kozanecki for all the extra time and effort he put into making this one of our best Endeavors ever!

Sincerely,

Ellie Bondzinski

STONE HEART

I can read about good works and abide by them as best
I can.
But if I have a stone heart, all my efforts will crumble like sand.

I can be considerate of others and say nice thing to make people feel good,
But if I have a stone heart, my words could easily be misunderstood.

I can listen to the advice of others and still keep a smile on my face,
But if I have a stone heart, my mind will be closed and those words will have no resting place.

I can laugh and cry with others when the curtain opens and the play begins.
But if I have a stone heart, my emotions lose while my talent in drama wins.

I can give a gift to someone or open one just the same,
But if I have a stone heart, those gifts are taken and
I have lost the game.

I can smile and love the world forever until I fall down on my knees,
But if I have a stone heart, that love remains locked up for no one else to see.

I can live with this cold, stone heart and let it weigh me down,
But what happens to me when it cracks after it has hit the ground.

I can chip away the stone,
But only I can do this, alone.

WORLD, WHY MUST MAN BE THIS WAY?

Why can man not live in peace?

Why can't hate, war, and misery cease?

Is equality a dream,

And brotherhood a mystery?

We've been searching for the answer through the pages of history.

If two men were left standing with two different views,

It's not a questions of right or wrong,

The truth is - they both lose.

World, is there any hope?

Unfortunately, nope.

My mind . . .

It flies freely

and proud, like an Eagle

after a meal . . .

. . . Searching, in the waves

crashing upon the rocks,

for its young child.

The Price has been Paid-

The Meal eaten-

The Child . . .

Lost (Forever)

BREAKING UP

Sitting, staring, never daring, kind of sinking, barely thinking,
almost crying, loudly sighing,
hardly aware of life out there.
There's only me, no longer we.

I've Been Thinking About You

As we walked home from school, I heard music coming from the park. Tracy and Michelle had to go straight home, but I just had to find out where the music was coming from.

As I walked up to the small crowd gathered there, the music stopped and the crowd started breaking up. When the crowd dispersed, I saw a boy about my age, sitting on the ledge of the park fountain. He was holding a guitar.

"Hi," I said, "What was the crowd here for?"

"I was playing the guitar and singing, but I have to be going now, so I stopped and the crowd left," he answered.

I was disappointed. I wanted him to play a song for me. I guess he was reading my mind, because just then he started to strum out a tune.

I knew the song, and lost in my own world of dreams, I started singing with him. If I had known I had been singing, I'd have been totally embarrassed, but the music stopped before I realized it. I just stood there wondering why I'd never heard this guy before, but he interrupted my thinking and said, "Have you ever thought about recording? You have a really nice voice."

I started laughing, but then stopped myself, realizing that I might hurt this guy's feelings if he really did think I sang well. So I just said "Thanks," and started to walk away.

"You don't believe me, do you?" he asked.

I turned around and stared him straight in the eyes and proclaimed "No." When he eventually asked me to sing a song with him, after all our little introductions: name and so on, I believed him.

Every night, Mike (that's his name) came over and we'd write songs and music on my back porch. I'd always had a kind of knack for writing. I wanted to be a writer for a newspaper when I grew up.

One night, Mike didn't show up. I got really worried because I knew he'd call if he were able. I was getting ready to call the police station when a policeman came to the door.

"Miss Julia Wells, please?" he asked, as I opened the door.

I felt my face drain of color. I knew something had happened to Mike. "I'm Julia," I barely managed to squeak.

Mom had come in then but stayed out of the conversation. Mike had had an accident and was at the hospital in town. The policeman drove Mom and me there. Mike didn't have any relatives, so when he kept repeating my name and they found a letter in his pocket addressed to me, they came straight to me.

Mike was unconscious, and the doctor said he had done something bad to his back. He had to be transferred to a special hospital where they dealt with those kinds of injuries.

I opened the letter that was in his pocket and it read "I've Been Thinking About You" the title of his new song. I started to cry.

I lost a ton of weight and my grades went down so much, that my mom wanted me to see a psychiatrist.

I refused because a psychiatrist couldn't bring Mike back to me.

After about two months, Mike wrote and told me he was coming home. I ran straight downstairs and grabbed myself some munchies, so I'd gain back the weight that I'd lost.

By the time Mike got home, I was pretty much back to normal. Mike came over and as he walked to the door, I ran out to greet him.

I got a plaque to welcome him home. He opened it when we got into the living room. It said:

Dear Michael,

I just wanted to say that when you were gone, it was the worst time of my life. Please don't ever leave me again, and remember: I've been thinking about you.

Love forever and ever,
Julia

I'm now sitting in our den. I did become a writer, and Mike and I were married. We sang during our spare time for local clubs, but I spent most of my time writing.

We had two, beautiful daughters, Susan and Lisa, and we all lived a full and happy life.

Mike died about three months ago, at the age of 74. As I read the plaque sitting on the mantle of the fireplace, I can still remember what he said to me as he drifted off to a permanent sleep.

"Julia, my time has come. You have brought me nothing but joy and love in all the years I've known you. Please don't mourn for me, for we'll meet again someday. And, Julia, always remember: I'll be thinking about you."

Farewell To Youth

Life goes on-

even without you!

My days are

warm and bright

Filled with happiness,

good times and light.

Everything is still the same-

even without you!

A part of me still giving still loving,

And living what I had

for you.

But there are otherseven without you.

Still time to feel

and remember,

But they are shared with others-and not you!

Still shades, imprints,

colors and patterns-

All the same-

even without you . . . I know I can live!

FRIENDSHIP

Friends endure time together, with all the specialness that should be shared by two.

Friends touch forever

what has passed, the memories they once knew!

Friends are as new

as the morning air, sunshine, and flowers.

Friends are as true

as the warm smiles that comfort the painful hours.

Friends share a heart

filled with love and laughter,

And while still apart

the feelings remain, dropping simple tears after.

Friends could change everything

as you and I.

All the special times we bring together help us get by . . .

I Will Give You . . . . . .

I will give you anything that is a part of me,

I will give you my heart along with its key.

I will give you my laughter, along with my tears,

I will give you my hopes and give you my fears.

I will give you my days along with my nights,

I will give you my good times, give you my fights.

I will give you my kisses, soft and warm,

I will give you sunlight instead of storm.

I will give you my moods, good and bad,

I will give you everything I hope for, everything I had.

I will give you my fantasies, give you my dreams,

I will give you my plans, give you my schemes.

I will give you everything I live for, everything I treasure,

I will give you a love impossible to measure.

I will give you all of those things, it's true, because I am so in love with you.

I will never forget the looks on the children's faces when we told them. You could see the mixture of emotions building inside them. It was just as confusing to them as it was to me. When you think about it though, is divorce easily understood by anyone?

I had always thought that my family was a happy one, but I guess from my husband's point of view it wasn't.

It was around Christmas time when he started acting strangely, and I just couldn't put my finger on it. It was really beginning to bother me and I just couldn't keep it in any longer. One morning I approached him.

"Is something wrong between us?" I asked kind of hesitantly.

"I can't really talk now or I'll be late for work. We'll talk tonight," he said. On that note he left for work.

All through the day I wondered what he could possibly have to say, and the thought of it kind of scared me. I tried to put it out of my mind but I just couldn't. I was counting the minutes until he would get home so I could relieve myself of this feeling.

When he finally did get home, he was very quiet, very untalkative. I knew he had something on his mind.

We were sitting in the family room watching television. Both children were sleeping. I would look at him and he would turn away, as if he couldn't bear to look at me. Then he spoke.

"I'm not happy anymore. I want a divorce."

The words just went in one ear and out the other. I hadn't really grasped hold of them for a couple of seconds.

When I finally realized that the words were reality, I was shocked. He had to be kidding. It was a joke, We hardly ever fought and we got along quite well.

We got into a discussion about it, and I realized that he wasn't kidding. He didn't love me anymore. He had someone else.

I will never forget the incredible surge of pain that raced through me. I had a lump in my throat that would not cease. The pain was so great, that I find it hard to describe it.

It was two weeks before Christmas when he told me, and he requested that we not tell the children until after Christmas. I said that that wasn't fair to them. They had a right to know what was going on in their own home, for our daughter had already sensed that something was wrong. He was opposed to it, but he went along with it because it was what I wanted.

Since when did he care what I wanted? I didn't want a divorce and did everything in my power to get him to change his mind. It didn't matter, however. He was leaving no matter what I said or did.

Telling our two children was the hardest part of all. I demanded that he tell them because it was what he wanted.

We were all sitting in the living room. He started to speak.

"Your mother and I are getting a divorce."

That was all he said.

My daughter immediately broke into uncontrollable sobs. My son just sat there not knowing what to do. It irritated me that this was what he wanted and he left all the explaining up to me! My daughter's sobs and the look on my son's face will always be a vivid part of my memory.

From then one, nothing was the same. Christmas went by with none of us really acknowledging it. Trying to be happy just isn't the same as the real thing.

He stayed at the house for the week after Christmas. I don't know why I ever agreed to that. It was so hard to see him there, especially to see him sleep on the couch.

The days just dragged by. We all just walked around in a state of what seemed to be unconsciousness. No one talked. My daughter and I cried. My son felt it hard to show his emotions. No one knew what to say.

He left January 1st. The children and I went to my sister's so we wouldn't be there to see him leave.

It made it a little easier not having to see him in the house.

As I look back now, I really thought that I was going to have an emotional breakdown. It was one of the most - no, the most - traumatic thing that's ever happened to me. Although it's getting easier, at least once a day I think about it and cry quietly inside.

"Song for David"

She sat alone at the piano. It was dark and two candles softly illuminated the music and her tear-stained face. She looked at her hands with disgust— her beautiful hands with their classic, long fingers, hands that didn't feel the music anymore. The music was there in her head, screaming for a way to get out, but it didn't come. The lovely flowing melodies she imagined seemed flat and lifeless when played. Again she played her composition. It seemed too straight and formal to come from an eighteen-year-old girl. She crumpled the pages and started with a fresh peice of paper. Try to think of pleasant things, she thought, but all she could think of was fire, pain and death. "Senseless waste," "needless tragedy" it had said in the paper. Why had she escaped? Why hadn't she taken the bus to school that day? She couldn't remember now. All she could remember was the announcement over the school loud speaker - 33 dead, 25 injured, train, fire . . . the words whipped through the music room. Immediately she knew-David, David was dead. She left the room and called home. Grandma answered. "Yes, David was on the bus . . . mother was at the hospital . . . no, he wasn't dead, just injured." When she got home, she heard the details. David was in intensive care. He had burns over sixty percent of his body. The doctor said that there wasn't much to do except pray. She prayed, promising God anything if only He would spare her younger brother.

When she saw him, she cried. His beautiful brown hair, so like her own, had been cut off. His skin was burned in places. Only his eyes were the same - large and green. But instead of their usually sunny expression, they held pain and suffering. He drifted in and out of consciousness. She talked to him. Sometimes it seemed as if he understood, but most of the time he was delirious.

At five o'clock the nurse told her to leave. She kissed him softly and walked out in tears. That was the last time she saw her brother alive.

She didn't go near her piano for months. It reminded her too much of David. David sitting on the bench playing chopsticks, David standing behind her singing in his rich tenor voice, David slamming the piano lid and spraining three of her fingers. No, she couldn't go near her piano. Yet one day she wanted to, she wanted to do something for David.

She sat alone at the piano trying to make music. It was dark — two candles softly illuminated the music and her tear-streaked face. Her thoughts were only of the accident. The music seemed too heavey and formal, not like David, who was lively and bright. She was not used to the music not coming. She wanted it to flow through her fingers like it used to before.

"David?" she whispered, "David, help me. I need my music."

Then it came. Not fast or easy, as it used to, but it came. The music formed intricate flowing melodies that spoke of David. His quick agile mind and hands were there, hands strong enough to lift weights, yet gentle enough to fondle a kitten.

When she finished playing, her tears had stopped. She felt strangely peaceful. David was still with her - not physically, but he was there. He was there in the photos and memories, but most of all, he was there in her song for David.

A REFLECTION

As I dreamily sit here and ponder about life,

I seem only to think of human strife.

I know there must be more out there.

Isn't anyone strong enough to share?

My mind is filled with so many strange things.

Then, suddenly, this reflection is seen.

We act friendly and so secure

When truthfully we are lost and unsure.

How long will we live in this lost and lonely place

Of constant competition to win the race?

I cannot see our reasons for entering this marathon.

For no matter how hard we try, we are never done.

Why must we be on top of it all?

Is it so terrible if we should fall?

A fall would not mean failure — only steps to a new direction.

For when we fall we are always given reproof and correction.

No longer should we be afraid of those who pass us by.

For we will succeed just by setting our goals high.

When others' eyes are opened, as mine were today,

They will see the light of happiness, which will show them the way.

MEANING OF LOVE

I love you not only for what you are

But for what you made of me,

And what we are when we're together.

I love you for what you taught me-

How to love and care for someone-

More than any creed could ever say.

I love you for putting your hand in my heart

And pulling out in the light all the belonging I never knew I had

And no one ever looked far enough to find.

You've done it without touch, without word.

Without sigh.

You've done it by being your own special self.

Perhaps that 's the meaning of love . . .

after all.

LOVERS YESTERDAY

You stand so proud
With your electric guitar
Hearing screams from the crowd.
I could tell you'll go far.
Wasn't it yesterday
When we were together?
And now you've gone away,
I'll be longing forever.

I was yours.
You were mine.
Everything was fine.
What can I say?
What can I do,
To get back to you?

Do you remember the time
When you were playin' local clubs?
I was by your side,
And we were so in love.
You said you'd never leave me.
Your life was me and music.
But if love was the key,
I was refused it.

I was yours.
You were mine.
Everything was fine.
What can I say?
What can I do,
To get back to you?
Now the lights are going down.
Your fans are screamin' loud.
You proudly take a bow.
You don't see me in the crowd.
Your fans await an encore.
One more song you've got to play.
I thought we had so much more
When we were lovers yesterday.

LETTER TO THE WORLD

To accomplish great things,
we must not only act,
But also dream;
not only plan,
But also believe.

THUNDER AND TEARS

A man becomes saddened as quick as the seasons change.

Just as the violent wind blows the clouds,

A man is hit with the violence in life.

One minute the sun shines and his life is full of joy.

Then suddenly a dark cloud passes and the joy is taken away.

That cloud pours its rain as the man cries his tears.

"Can anyone really understand the spreading of the clouds or the thunder within?"

Is there ever a time when all is just right,

When not a breeze nor a cloud can be seen?

If someone finds that perfect day,

Will he not shout so that all mankind can be happy?

So many unanswered questions,

All of which are like the changing weather.

Who knows if the clouds will appear.

Or, if tomorrow the sun will shine?

Who knows if a man will be happy, or so sad that he cries?

THE BOOK OF LIFE

Life is just a book with many, many pages,

They carry on all thru the ages.

I have many chapters to go in mine,

But somehow I feel I haven't written a line.

Was it all just a dream, a silly, silly dream?

Just a pie topped with strawberry ice cream?

I look back to when it started.

Wasn't it just yesterday I took my first step?

Blew out my 1st candle?

Skinned my knee for the 1st time?

But the years go on, and later

The pages will yellow, but not now.

I have time and lots of will;

The past chapters though, they do stand still.

Sixteen have passed away,

How I wanted them to stay. But

Time says, "No. You must get up and go.

Life is still an unfinished book for you.

Go. Make more pages, y'have much more to do."

This story is lovingly dedicated to all those who have not only experienced the useless, selfless destruction of a personality, but have been able to understand it as well.

The boy is young-fourteen to be exact. He has wavy, curly blond hair that comes down to the middle of his ears. He has soft blue eyes, rosy cheeks, and an innocent, contagious smile on his face. He is a little bit tall for his age and a little bit skinny, too. "Strength," his parents had told him, "isn't so important. Develop your mind." And he had believed them with his whole heart. He wore a pair of nicely pressed green pants that his mother had laid out for him, a pair of black leather shoes, and a green and white flowered silk shirt. The shirt was very special to him. It was given to him on his last birthday by his father and mother. He loved them very much. How proud he had felt that morning as he kissed his mother good-bye and walked out the door, carefully groomed for his first day of high school. Now, with his books in his hand, a brand new folder and notebook for each class, and two new pens and pencils, all organized with the utmost care, he was ready to begin this special adventure. For the last three weeks he had dreamed of this day almost every night. How he would meet all of the wonderful, friendly people his older sisters had told him about. "It's the 'funnest' time of your life," he had heard. Now as he walked down the hall, he was amazed at all the activity and all the people. The hall was lined with benches on each side which were filled with people. They all appeared to him to be juniors or seniors, and he smiled at them, hoping to make some friends. Suddenly, he was on the ground. All of his folders, put together so carefully, were strewn all over the hall. All of the papers were dirty and his pens and pencils were not to be found. He had been tripped, and as he was, a seam in the arm of his green and white flowered silk shirt had been pulled and torn. His pants were dirty and his hair was messed up. As he got up, he looked at all those faces. Faces he had trusted, respected, looked up to, and believed in. They were all pointing and laughing at him. His eyes were watery and a single solitary tear rolled down his soft cheek. And he felt very, very sorry for them.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF SUMMER

Last summer I did something that my grandparents, my father, and his brothers and sisters had to do, sometimes a week at a time, to stay alive 40 years ago.

I was in Poland, and I spent a month at my grandmother's in Dzierzak village. The village is nicknamed that because almost everyone who lives there has the last name of Dzierzak. They are all related to me in some way.

One night my uncle was telling my cousins and me about how our relatives and their neighbors survived during World War II. During his story he mentioned an underground room which was beneath my grandmother's house. Long ago it was used as a bomb shelter, and hiding room. Whenever bomb sirens were heard, everyone in the village came to my grandmother's house, and then went underground. Young men did the same thing when they heard that the Nazi' would be coming and taking some of them away to serve in the German army. I had never heard about this underground room, and I wanted to see it. My cousin and I decided that we would like to see how it felt to be locked up under-ground, and not to be able to come out when we wanted to.

The next morning my uncle took us down to the room, and then my cousin and I were on our own. Our goal was to stay there for at least 48 hours. The room was large, dark, and empty, except for a few chairs, and some games. The first hour dragged on slowly, and by the time the third hour started, I felt that we had been down there at least a day. I was very restless and bored, there was nothing to occupy time with. I was afraid to sleep. If someone asked me why I couldn't sleep, I probably couldn't have given him a decent reason. I remember that at one time I was walking around the room, and I knocked over the candles that were keeping it lit. My cousin started screaming because it became very dark. When I finally got another candle lit, we decided that we couldn't stay down in the room any longer. So, after 26 hours underground, we came back out into the world.

I am glad that I, at least, stayed underground for a little while. It wasn't very much fun, and I'm relieved that I wasn't around when people had to sit in rooms like the one I was in for days at a time, not knowing what to expect when they came out.

Dear Michelle,
You are a great friend to have. We had some fun in Biology. (no thanks to Mr. Kaltsas!) Lunch was fun even though we were naughty and did our Biology at the last second! I hope I am in some of your classes next year. Just in case you decide to give me a ring, my phone number is 299-7911.
Have a great summer and good luck next year in school.

Your very good friend,
Katie

Michelle,
I'm glad I met you this semester. It has been fun knowing you. Maybe we'll see each other over the summer. Keep in touch!
